PROOF LUSITANIA CARRIED NO GUNS 'BEYOND QUESTION'

Washington Officials Say Inspectors Who Examined Ship Had Better Chance to Know Than Signers of German Affidavits.

President's New Note to Berlin to Dismiss Other Features of the German Reply as Irrelevant.

Wilson Expected to Insist on Visit and Search in Cases of Unarmed Ships That Offer No Resistance.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 3.—President Wilson worked most of today on the new note to Germany. The situation had developed to a point, where, although the visit of Count Bernstorff, the German Ambassador, to the President yesterday was believed likely to enlighten the Berlin Foreign Office on the attitude of the United States, the American Government is unwavering in its intention to determine promptly whether German submarine commanders will hereafter respect the principles of international law.

The facts upon which the German Government asked agreement, it is now practically ascertained, will be treated by the note as irrelevant with one exception. It is understood that the note will restate that the Lusitania was on a peaceful cruise, did not resist capture and was unarmed. All the other points raised by Germany are deemed irrelevant under the laws of nations.

Germany's Intentions to Be Asked.
The purpose of the United States in the new note will be to discover whether Germany will, in the future, on encountering vessels of any nationality, that are unarmed, transfer passengers and crew to places of safety should a vessel carrying contraband be certain of condemnation in a prize court and therefore subject to destruction.

It was reiterated at the State Department today that, while affidavits filed there by German embassy contending that the Lusitania was armed, had been carefully considered, the proof of the United States that the Lusitania was unarmed was beyond question.

None of the signers, in the opinion of officials, could have made as searching an investigation as did the customs inspectors who were specifically ordered to examine decks of vessels and their holds for the one thing—guns. Had there been explosives aboard, officials say, clearance would have been refused. Before the Lusitania sailed such facts were in possession of the American Government.

Count Bernstorff conferred briefly with Secretary Bryan today. He would not discuss the subject.

To Insist on Visit and Search.
The President, it is believed, informed the Ambassador at the conference yesterday that the United States would not object to the German submarine warfare, provided it could be conducted in such a way as not to jeopardize life and property of neutrals. He also said to have explained that the exercise of the right of visit and search would be insisted upon when submarines encountered unarmed merchantmen or vessels, which do not resist capture.

A feeling of hopefulness pervaded the German Embassy, where the conference was regarded as satisfactory. The Ambassador himself expressed the belief that the communication which he had sent to his Government—conveying the viewpoint of the President himself—would enlighten the German Foreign Office accurately as to the American Government's viewpoint and pave the way to a better understanding.

In view of the difficulties which the German Embassy has experienced in communicating with Berlin on account of the cutting of cables, it is understood the President granted a request of the Ambassador that the United States assist him in transmitting his message concerning the delicate situation that has arisen. The Ambassador's report of his talk with the President will be sent in code through the State Department and will be delivered by Ambassador Gerard.

Embassy Presses Affidavits.
The view was expressed in German quarters that the German reply did not purport to be a full answer to the American demands and that if the United States in its next note stated that

AUSTRIANS RETAKE PRZEMYSL AFTER TERRIFIC BATTLE

Galician Fortress, in Hands of Russians 70 Days, Recaptured by Germanic Allies Through Effectiveness of Their Heavy Artillery.

Expenditure of Men and Ammunition There in Three Weeks' Siege Has Outdone Anything in the War.

Aviators Report Russians Evidently Are Preparing Also to Give Up Lemberg, Galician Capital.

By Associated Press.

VIENNA, via London, June 3.—Przemysl is again in Austrian hands, according to official announcement made here today.

The report from the headquarters of the German army regarding the capture of the fortress says: "The fortified town of Przemysl was taken by us early this morning, after the fortifications on the northern front, which still held out, had been stormed during the night. The amount of booty taken has not yet been ascertained.

"The army under Gen. von Linsingen is penetrating the District of Zydaczow, northeast of Stry and fighting for the Dniester section east of Mikolaj (20 miles south of Lemberg). The booty taken in the battle of Stry has been increased to 60 officers and 12,175 men."

Przemysl, situated about 60 miles west of Lemberg, capital of Galicia, was captured by the Russians March 22, after a siege of approximately six months. More than 100,000 prisoners were taken. The garrison had been compelled to surrender because of the lack of food, the Russians having thrown a ring around the town and prevented the Austrians from sending supplies.

The recapture by the Teutonic forces of the fortress is the result of the great drive from Cracow, directed by the German General, Mackensen, which compelled the Russians to retire from the Dniester River onto the Stan. A great battle for the possession of Przemysl has been in progress for some time.

Austrian 12-inch mortars and German 10-inch mortars have been pounding the west and south fronts of the fortress.

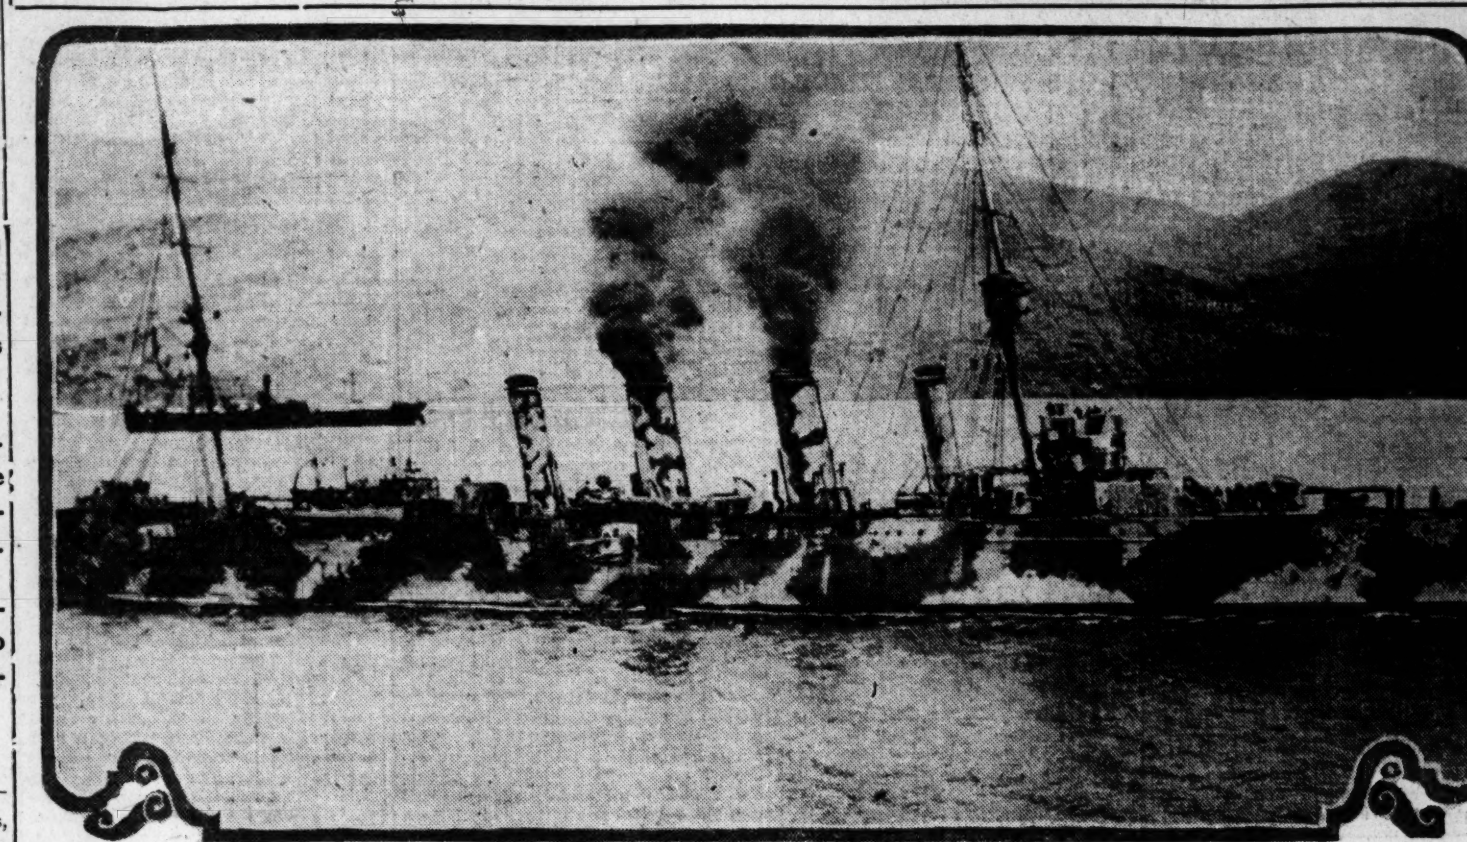

While the Archduke's forces were approaching the Stan River, and even after the campaign against the fortress began, the Russians poured a stream of trains with reinforcements, ammunition and supplies into Przemysl along the double track railroad from Lemberg.

When the besiegers approached within artillery range of the railroad and highway the movement in this direction ceased and the Russians began an equal hurried rush of men and supplies away from the fortress.

There are said to be other indications that the Russians had become reconciled to the fall of Przemysl and the possible abandonment of Lemberg is being hurriedly transferred to Brody, on the Russian frontier, while the civil administration has been shifted to Zloczow, 40 miles east. Work on the fortifications around Lemberg has been discontinued and aviators report that long trains of freight cars are leaving in the direction of the frontier. They do not show the Red Cross and the inference is drawn from this fact that they are not transport of wounded, but are carrying to a place of safety supplies from the Lemberg magazine.

Warship in Dardanelles in New Dappled Gray Disguise

THE allies have devised a way of painting their battleships in the Dardanelles which gives the ships the appearance of the dappled gray horse and affords a protection from gun fire. The mixture of the leaden hues of the paint, in a rough sea, makes the ships appear at a distance a part of the waves and sky. One of the ships covered with the paint is shown in the Dardanelles.

INJURED MAN LIES 25 HOURS IN PIT OF ELEVATOR SHAFT

Cry Heard When He Recovers Consciousness; Has Concussion of Brain.

Frank Spittler, 31 years old, of 2117A Salisbury street, a driver for a tea and coffee company, lay for 25 hours at the bottom of an elevator shaft, seriously injured, while the police were looking for him on information that he had deserted his horse and wagon and disappeared.

Spittler was sent to the factory of the Commercial Auto Body Co. to deliver some boxes Tuesday morning. Later his horse and his wagon, with the boxes still on them, were found in the alley in the rear of the factory and his employer, T. A. Smith, notified the police that he had disappeared.

Spittler had last been seen walking through the factory on the first floor about 10:30 a. m., Tuesday.

Yesterday at noon, Hugh Cartwright, president of the Auto Body company heard a voice from the bottom of the elevator shaft. It said: "Are you going to let me out now?" Cartwright went to the shaft and dimly saw a man in the pit. He lowered a ladder and helped the man to the first floor. It was Spittler. After being taken from the shaft he collapsed. He was taken to the Mulvaney Hospital, where it was found he had concussion of the brain.

Spittler has been unconscious most of the time and has been unable to tell how he fell into the shaft. The elevator is used in carrying automobile bodies between the first and second floors. The pit extends 15 feet below the first floor, but the building has no basement.

The elevator is never run below the first floor.

MRS. T. B. TEASDALE CALLED FOR AUTO VICTIM'S INQUEST

Harry H. Wheeler Dies of Injuries Suffered When Run Down by Her Coupe.

Mrs. Thomas B. Teasdale of 5830 Cates avenue, who recently retired as president of the Twentieth Century Art Club after serving two years, today was summoned to appear tomorrow at the inquest into the death of Harry H. Wheeler of 1215 Montclair avenue, who died last night at the city hospital of injuries received when he was run down by Mrs. Teasdale in her electric coupe at Thirteenth and Locust streets last Monday.

At the Teasdale residence this morning, Teasdale, who is vice president of J. H. Teasdale Commission Co., gave a Post-Dispatch reporter a wife's version of the accident, which differs somewhat from the official police report.

He said a westbound auto turned suddenly south into Thirteenth street without slackening speed or signaling an intention to turn. Mrs. Teasdale, he said, was driving east and had to make a sharp turn south into Thirteenth street to avoid a collision.

Teasdale said Wheeler was crossing Thirteenth street, between the Public Library and Christ Church Cathedral, and, in jumping out of the way of the westbound machine, had leaped in front of Mrs. Teasdale's car.

Police Report on Accident.
Police in their written report, stated that Mrs. Teasdale was driving east on Locust street and at Thirteenth street knocked down Wheeler, who was crossing from the north to the south side of Locust street.

Wheeler, who was 56 years old, married and was a salesman for the Ruid Heating Co., 1019 Locust street.

Fainted After Accident.
Mrs. Teasdale stopped her car quickly, and then fainted. She was carried to Schuyler Memorial, adjoining Christ Church Cathedral. After being revived there, she was taken to the police station to make her explanation.

GERMAN RESERVIST SWEARS HE SAW GUNS ON LUSITANIA

Gustave Stahle and Three Associates, Who Also Made Affidavits, Connected With German Consulate, Inquiry in New York Indicates.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, June 3.—Efforts were made this morning to find Gustave Stahle of 20 Leroy street and his associates—A. Leitch, a man of the name of Greive and Josephine Weir—whose affidavits were submitted to the State Department by the German Ambassador in support of the German Government's contention that the Lusitania on her last trip from New York was armed.

Stahle, who is reputed to be an employee of the German consulate in this city, swears that he went aboard the Lusitania with his friend, A. Leitch, who, he says, was first cabin steward, and that he saw four guns of four or five inches, two mounted on a foredeck and two on a stern deck.

Investigations made this morning, including inquiries at 20 Leroy street, indicate that not only Stahle, but his associates as well are connected with the German consulate.

Dispatches from Washington referred to Josephine Weir, one of the affidavit makers, as a boarding-house keeper. There is a young woman in the Leroy street house whose name is Josephine. She declined to tell her last name. The boarding house where Stahle has been living for six weeks is run by Mrs. Margaret Kane, a widow, and her two married daughters, Mrs. George Morris and Mrs. Edward Cleary.

Mrs. Kane lets out two rooms on the second floor. Two men, of whom Stahle is one, have the back room, and two girls, with whom the men have been friendly, have the front room on the same floor.

While a surprising attempt to conceal the facts concerning Mrs. Kane's two sets of roomers was met in many quarters, it was possible to discover many things concerning the affidavit makers that increased interest in the situation.

Stahle, during the past six weeks, has shared his back parlor room with another German, who has given every indication of being a sort of assistant of Stahle. Stahle has been accustomed to leave the house at 7 a. m., and it is said that he goes at that hour every morning to the German consulate at 11 Broadway. He has customarily returned at 6 p. m., stayed around the house an hour or two, after which he has gone out, not to return until early the next morning.

Meanwhile, customarily, the companion of Stahle has stayed at home. He has been receiving a great number of missives described as "telegrams." But it was also said that some of these envelopes were "blue." The telegrams or cables have come persistently during the most unseasonable hours, late at night and between 3 and 4 in the morning.

EXTRA GOVERNMENT LOSES ITS SUIT TO DISSOLVE STEEL CORPORATION

Federal Circuit Court of Appeals at Trenton Decides Against Government, Which Proceeded Under Antitrust Law Against Great Combination of Capital.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
TRENTON, N. J., June 3.—The suit of the Government for the dissolution of the United States Steel Corporation was decided today by the Federal Circuit of Appeals in favor of the corporation, one of the largest combinations of capital in the world.

Suit Filed in October, 1911.
The suit against the United States Steel Corporation was filed at Trenton, N. J., Oct. 26, 1911, during the Taft administration and was started by George W. Wickersham, who was Attorney General at the time. Prior to the filing of the action, the corporation had been under investigation several times. The Federal Bureau of Corporations under different administrations delved into the operations of the concern and a congressional committee, headed by Representative A. O. Stanley of Kentucky, investigated the corporation.

The testimony, exhibits, briefs and written and oral arguments were exceedingly voluminous. The examination in the case sat 166 days in nine different cities and heard 490 witnesses. The testimony made up 56 volumes containing 15,900 printed pages. There were more than 1,500 pages of printed arguments aside from the voluminous answers filed by the many defendants, and the oral arguments filled more than 1800 typewritten pages.

The defendants named were the original bill of complaint were the Steel Corporation, its subsidiaries, and J. P. Morgan (deceased), Charles Steele, George W. Perkins, E. H. Gary, Charles M. Schwab, Andrew Carnegie, Henry C. Frick, James Gayley, William H. Moore, J. H. Moore, Edmund W. Converse, Percival Roberts Jr., Daniel G. Reid, Norman B. Ream (deceased), John D. Rockefeller, John D. Rockefeller Jr., P. A. B. Widener and William P. Palmer, past or present directors of the Steel Corporation, together with certain companies, such as the James J. Hill interests and Louis W. Hill, James N. Hill, Walter J. Hill, Edward T. Nichols, J. H. Gruber, who were sued as trustees of the Hill companies.

What Suit Charged.
In brief the general charge against the defendants was that some of the companies in themselves were combinations in restraint of trade and that the creation of the Steel Corporation, which took in the steel and certain other companies named in the suit, was "an attempt to monopolize and a monopolization" in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

It was further charged by the Government that many millions of dollars were issued for mere promotion and underwriting, the petition stating that Morgan & Co. and the syndicate it represented received $25,000,000 in cash and their expenses, services and risks and $125,000,000 of stock of the corporation.

The Steel corporation acquired works, the petition stated, with an annual capacity ranging from 60 to 82 per cent of the country's production, with the exception of pig iron, spiegel and ferro, which was 43.2 per cent.

The petition also charged that subsequent to the formation of the corporation numerous companies were absorbed to suppress competition, including the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Co., which was acquired during the money panic of 1907.

Acquired Ore Fields.
By the acquisition from the Rockefeller of the Lake Superior Consolidated Iron Mines and allied transportation companies for more than $5,000,000; the leasing of the Hill ore deposits and the absorption of the Tennessee company with its large ore holdings, the Government charged, the Steel corporation achieved a commanding position over its competitors in the matter of ore ownership and transportation, and that through the acquisition of the H. C. Frick Co. it controlled large areas of the best coaling lands in Western Pennsylvania.

The petition further said: "It controls over 150 companies. From the time of its organization down to near the time of the filing of the petition it, by the participation of various of its subsidiaries in unlawful pools, agreements, associations, meetings and un-

CARNEGIE CO. GETS ORDERS FOR 28,000 TONS OF STEEL

Most of Its Mills to Be Working at Full Capacity in Few Days.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 2.—The Carnegie Steel Co. has obtained orders for 15,000 tons of ship steel and 13,000 tons of rail steel. The William Cramp Shipbuilding Co. of Philadelphia gave the contract for ship steel, which it is to be used in the construction of eight merchant vessels. The names of the companies ordering the ships was not disclosed. The rail steel will go to various railroads in this country. It will take three months or more to produce the steel.

The new contracts will insure a 75 per cent operation of the Edgar Thomson plant. Orders are expected that will bring the operation up to 90 per cent, or more. The Upper and Lower Union plants of the Carnegie company have been working at 75 per cent of capacity and under new contracts may go to between 80 and 90 per cent.

According to Col. H. P. Bope, first vice president of the company, most of the Carnegie mills throughout the country will be working at 75 per cent capacity within a few days. He predicts unprecedented prosperity in all lines of business.

EXAMINATION OF STATE INSURANCE OFFICE FINISHED

Accountants Make Their Report to Farris Legislative Committee.

FEES PUT IN QUESTION

Whether Commissioner and Others
Are Entitled to Payments
Above Salaries Is Asked.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 3.—The Farris Investigating Committee today received from expert accountants a report showing that insurance superintendents Charles G. Revelle, former Superintendent Frank Blake and many employees of the department have been receiving varying amounts in fees in addition to their salaries. In some instances the fees have exceeded the salaries fixed by law.

The report declares that the State has not received large amounts due in fees from insurance companies, and that the companies have been undercharged.

It is also stated that some money appropriated by the Legislature for a specific purpose has been used to pay salaries of extra men placed on the payroll.

The accountants report that they have been able to discover $10,491.80 in fees which have been retained by superintendents and employees during the last four years. This does not represent more than half the amount retained according to the report. The accountants say they could not trace the remainder because only half the insurance companies answered the accountants' request for a statement of the amount paid.

Fees for Valuation of Policies.—These fees represent a charge of $10 a $1000 for valuation of policies. The law is not clear on the subject of who shall have these fees. It states that if the insurance superintendents do the valuing of policies the fees which are paid by the insurance companies shall be paid into the State Treasury but if the valuing is done by another person than the superintendents he may retain the fees.

The amount of these fees is shown in the accountants' statement in their report that W. K. Chorn, actuary in the department, told them he had received fees of approximately $5000 in two years.

The amount of such fees retained by various persons in the department is shown by the report and based on statements from the insurance companies. It follows: Frank Blake, Superintendent, 1911 and 1912, $11,156; C. G. Revelle, Superintendent, 1913 and 1914, $13,236; M. D. Aber, Deputy Superintendent, 1911, $14,250; E. F. Nelson, Deputy Superintendent, 1913 and 1914, $7,515; A. L. Reeves, actuary, 1911, 1912 and 1913, $7,515; W. K. Chorn, actuary, 1913 and 1914, $3,814.75; T. W. Crockett, clerk, in 1913 and 1914, $2,415; H. C. Kave, Jr., clerk, in 1913 and 1914, $2,415; W. Lamkin, reciprocal clerk in 1914, $2,415; Miss Weidemeyer, stenographer in 1913, $2. Paid to Insurance Department, $2000 in two years.

The report recommends that of this amount $224.42, which was paid to superintendents and deputy superintendents, should be paid to the State. On this subject the report says: "The fees paid by companies in this connection have not been credited to the State, but have been claimed by various members of the insurance department staff. On investigating the matter, we were informed that Mr. Walter Chorn, the actuary for the department, collected these fees. We inquired of Mr. Chorn the amount of fees he collected from this source and were informed that he did not keep any record of the fees collected, but that he was certain that they did not exceed $500 during the two years ended Dec. 31, 1914."

"We cannot understand why these fees should accrue to employees of the department who are being paid a regular salary. Their contention is based on section 6880 R. S. which relates to the expenses of examinations of assets and liabilities. It provides that the fees for valuations of policies shall in the first instance be paid by the companies directly to the person or persons making the examination, but provides that where any examination or valuation is made by the superintendent in person the cost of making same, excepting his traveling and other necessary expenses, shall be paid by him into the department fund.

"Mr. Chorn contends that the words 'In Person' mean that the superintendent himself and no other person employed in the department can make the examination. If the above proviso is to have any effect, we do not presume an opinion on this contention, but place the matter before you for your consideration."

Escaped Paying $5581.50. During four years, the report says, foreign insurance companies have escaped paying $5581.50 which of a $10 license fee asked by law. The department in many instances charged brokers only $2, the report states, if they were seeking licenses to place business with companies which were not authorized to do business in Missouri.

9 UNION PICKETS AT CAFE INDICTED; 4 ARE ARRESTED

Two Women Among Those Held
Under Charges of Criminal Conspiracy.

Two waitresses and two waiters were placed in jail at 1 o'clock this afternoon on charges of criminal conspiracy, resulting from the picketing of the Gem Restaurant, 710 Pine street. Four other waitresses and one waiter, indicted on the same charge, were sought by deputy sheriffs. The nine indictments were returned this morning by the grand jury, which has been investigating complaints against the pickets.

Florence Frederic and Beale Brooks, James Scully and Joseph Fenton, were the four locked up. The women gave their addresses as 749 Pine street, the waitresses' union headquarters, and the men gave no other address than 705½ Pine street, the waiters' headquarters.

The others indicted, whose addresses are also given as the respective headquarters, are Oscar Klose, Louise Kane, Chapman, Josie McCoy and Nellie Chandler.

Others Take Poles. After the arrest of the four, who were picketing in front of the restaurant at lunch time, the policemen on the beat reported that waiters were taking the places of those arrested. They were ordered to arrest the waiters on peace disturbance charges, but it was said that, if the waiters and waitresses persisted in an "endless chain" plan, there would be additional charges of conspiracy.

The bench warrants for the arrest of the nine indicted persons were issued by Judge Cave at the request of C. Orrick Bishop, Assistant Circuit Attorney, who is also attorney for C. N. Cassimatis, proprietor of the Gem Restaurant. Cassimatis also has a restaurant at 1325 Market street, which has been picketed in the last few days.

Ground of Complaint. One of the grounds of complaint against the picketing of Cassimatis' restaurants is that, according to his statement, no strike has taken place at either of his restaurants. He says most of his waitresses have been in his employ for some time past, and are satisfied with their wages, and he says the union's only grievance is that he will not bind himself to employ union girls.

Indictments were also returned today against pickets at the American Hotel, and against striking garment workers. The maximum penalty for criminal conspiracy, on conviction, is six months in the workhouse and $500 fine.

shall be paid by him into the department fund.

Przemysl Retaken by Teutons After a Three Weeks' Battle

Austrian garrison at Przemysl, an operation which brought them into the fortress on March 22, they did it slowly and systematically, conserving the lives of their men as much as possible. The Austro-German expenditure in men and ammunition has perhaps outdone anything in this war.

Another feature of the fighting on the eastern front is the new attack on Warsaw. Neither the Russian nor British newspapers are able to say whether the renewed battering of the Russian line between the Pilsa and the Vistula is a serious effort to break through to the Polish capital or a move timed to prevent the Russians from rushing reinforcements to their hard-pressed troops in Galicia. The assault has been violent and in force, doing a front of about twenty-five miles, the hardest pressure being brought to bear on the Russians along the Bzura and the Rawka rivers.

British Submarine Sinks German Transport in Sea of Marmora.

LONDON, June 3.—A British submarine operating in the Sea of Marmora torpedoed a large German transport in Panderma Bay yesterday morning. This announcement was given out officially in London today as having been received from the Vice-Admiral in command at the Dardanelles. It is said also that this submarine was one of several operating in these waters.

W. C. M'BRIDE SUED BY PHYSICIAN FOR $100,000

Dr. M. P. Morrell Bases Action on Letter Purporting to Have Been Written by Old Man.

Dr. M. P. Morrell, a physician and surgeon living at the Kendall Hotel, today filed a damage suit for $100,000 against W. C. McBride, of 23 Washington terrace, a wealthy oil well operator with offices in the Third National Bank Building.

The suit, filed by Attorney C. Porrett Johnson, is based on an article which appeared in the May 27 issue of Much Ado, a fortnightly paper edited by Harry S. Turner Jr. This article which bore the heading "Imaginary Interviews," contained what purported to be a letter to Turner from a "Mr. W. C. McBride" in reference to the death of Dr. Morrell's 19-year-old son, Morris Morrell, who was killed by gas Nov. 8, 1914 while working at an oil well owned by McBride at Taze, Ok.

official investigation showed that the Lusitania carried no guns, it would not be surprising if this would be accepted by the German Government as a fact, furnishing the basis for the giving of reparation.

It became known that one of the four affidavits presented to the State Department by the German embassy, alleging that guns were carried by the Lusitania, was made by Gustav Stahl, who is said to have served in the German army. It has been known for several days that these affidavits were in possession of the embassy, but neither the Ambassador nor the State Department has made them public.

The character of the individuals who made them and their testimony is being made the subject of a quiet investigation. Those officials who had seen the affidavits were confident that they could not be accepted as disproving the testimony given by inspectors whose duty it was to search for guns aboard the Lusitania.

A principal affidavit was made by Gustav Stahl, of 20 Leroy street, New York City, who deposes as follows: "On the day prior to the sailing of the Lusitania I was asked by my friend, A. Litch, who was employed as first cabin steward, to help him bring his trunk aboard."

After having remained some time in the steward's quarters we went to the stern main deck. About 15 to 18 feet from the entrance to the "Gloria," on port and starboard, respectively, I saw two guns of 12 and 15 centimeters (4½ inch and 6 inch). They were covered with leather, but the barrel was distinctly to be seen.

"To satisfy my curiosity I unfixed the buckles to ascertain the caliber of the guns. I could also ascertain that the guns were mounted on deck on wooden blocks. The guns were placed about three feet from the respective ship sides and the wall could be removed at that particular place."

"On the foredeck there were also two guns of the same caliber. They were placed at about 10 to 20 feet from the entrance of the crew's quarters and four feet from the ship side where the wall could also be removed."

Gazzolo has tried to get a majority petition, and failed, owing to the number of women property owners who refused to sign. He then undertook to get a mandatory petition, and while Thomas L. Anderson was Excise Commissioner he got the signatures of 13 of the 20 taxpayers who had voted at the previous election. Anderson contended that it took 14 to make the required two-thirds, and refused to grant the license. Gazzolo brought mandamus proceedings, and Circuit Judge Ranssieur upheld Anderson. Gazzolo then ceased his efforts until Rumsey succeeded Anderson and inaugurated, as it was understood, a "more liberal" policy.

Attorney Coleman has pointed out that, in the case of the Gazzolo petition to Rumsey, there were never enough signers, even counting all those fraudulently certified, to fulfill the requirements for a mandatory petition. Counting the names claimed by Rumsey, there were 18 signers out of 20 qualified persons, which does not constitute two-thirds.

The certificates issued by the Election Board were for the purpose of showing how many of the taxpayers in the block were qualified to sign, by having voted at the last previous election. In the case of a mandatory petition, so that the requirements for the two kinds of petitions are on an entirely different basis.

GAZZOLO CASE TO BE INVESTIGATED BY GRAND JURY

Alteration of Election Board
Certificates Is Forgery in Second Degree, Prosecutor Says.

Excise Commissioner Rumsey, on returning to his office tomorrow after a two days' absence, will receive the official statement of the Election Board, showing that the Gazzolo license, for a saloon at 6100 Delmar boulevard, was obtained by means of fraud and forgery.

The facts to which the Election Board has now certified were originally ascertained and were placed before Rumsey by Frank B. Coleman, attorney for remonstrants, immediately after the issuance of the license. Rumsey's reply, made in a letter written to Coleman May 24, was that the case would not be of the board, and that the facts would be very strong.

The principal affidavit was made by Gustav Stahl, of 20 Leroy street, New York City, who deposes as follows: "On the day prior to the sailing of the Lusitania I was asked by my friend, A. Litch, who was employed as first cabin steward, to help him bring his trunk aboard."

After having remained some time in the steward's quarters we went to the stern main deck. About 15 to 18 feet from the entrance to the "Gloria," on port and starboard, respectively, I saw two guns of 12 and 15 centimeters (4½ inch and 6 inch). They were covered with leather, but the barrel was distinctly to be seen.

"To satisfy my curiosity I unfixed the buckles to ascertain the caliber of the guns. I could also ascertain that the guns were mounted on deck on wooden blocks. The guns were placed about three feet from the respective ship sides and the wall could be removed at that particular place."

Two Photographs Showing How Parkway Beautified an Unsightly, Run-Down Section of Kansas City

HERE are two photographs which show how Kansas City converted an ugly and unattractive district into one of the finest Parkways in the world. One of these photographs shows the cheap buildings at Twelfth street and Flora avenue as they appeared before the Parkway was constructed.

The other picture shows the same spot after the Parkway was constructed.

ed, with a beautiful sunken garden in the foreground and handsome buildings where the shacks formerly stood.

The Paseo Parkway and boulevard is from 100 to 565 feet wide, and is nine miles long. It was built at a cost of more than $2,000,000 and paid for by the special tax system such as is proposed to be used in the construction of the Parkway in St. Louis.

This Parkway is laid out with double roadways, and wide sidewalks on both sides, with trees, flower gardens, parking and shrubbing to make it beautiful. There are small lakes, playgrounds, band stands and other plots of ground between the driveways so treated as to form recreation grounds for the people.

Interviews with property owners on this Parkway, who were taxed to pay for the improvement, are printed in the Post-Dispatch today. These interviews show that there was an immediate increase in property values of 100 to 300 per cent. Parkways and boulevards, such as the Paseo, of which Kansas City has more than 130 miles, have made Kansas City known all over the United States, and constitute one of the principal reasons for the rapid growth of the city.

"FLYING SQUAD" OF PARKWAY ORATORS TO GO OUT IN AUTOS

Vigorous Campaign to Counteract Misrepresentations Made by Project's Opponents.

PARKWAY MEETINGS TONIGHT.

8 p. m.—Princess Theater. Grand and Olive. Speakers, Selden P. Spencer, Carl M. Dubinsky, Dr. E. O. Greer, and Mrs. Kate Richards O'Hare.

8 p. m.—Eleventh Ward Republican Club, Southwest Turner Hall, Ohio and Potomac. Speaker, Col. H. N. Morgan and Dr. E. O. Greer.

8 p. m.—Harney Heights Improvement Association, Harney Heights School, Thekla and Calvary avenues. Speakers, Thomas D. Cannon and Richard Reichard.

WEDNESDAY MEETING TOMORROW.

12:30 p. m.—Parkway headquarters, 821 Olive street. Speakers, Charles Hertenstein, R. H. Calkins and Richard Reichard.

A vigorous campaign to counteract the circulation of misinformation about the Parkway has been arranged by the Citizens' Parkway Committee. The Lionberger-Kelshneider-Wackman-Shaughnessy combination opposing the Parkway has so grossly misrepresented matters that speakers will be sent in automobiles into all sections of the city to make outdoor speeches giving the facts. The automobiles will start out tomorrow night and the campaign will be continued Saturday night and Monday night. Speeches on the Parkway will be preached in 24 different churches Sunday.

The itinerary of the flying squadron of speakers, so far as it has been made up, follows: Friday night—Court House, Columbus square, Mullanphy Playground, Carr square, De Soto Playground, Pine Street Playground, Eighteenth and Market streets and Twelfth and Locust streets. Saturday night—Boulard Playground, Fontaine square, Buder Playground and Jefferson and Park avenues. Monday night—Various places on Grand avenue, from Easton avenue to Carondelet.

Citizens Urged to Vote. The Parkway Committee, in an official statement today, urged all voters who favor the improvement to go to the polls and vote next Tuesday. The committee says:

"The opponents will vote, and the full strength of the opposition will be polled. Unless all of the citizens who heretofore have stood for progress and have displayed civic pride, go to the polls and cast their ballots it will be impossible for the Parkway to show its strength. Apathy on the part of advocates of the Parkway seems to us to be the only thing that can defeat the Parkway. The Parkway will win if all of its friends go to the polls and vote. The issue has been squarely outlined. It is—whether the progressive citizens are going to let a few 'big rich' who own property near the Parkway and want to dodge their proper share of assessments run this town and defeat the Parkway.

Real Issue in Election. Mayor Kiel recently expressed the whole subject in one sentence. He said: 'The result of the election will show whether the voters of St. Louis are going to allow half a dozen rich men who own real estate near the Parkway run over us and move us down, or whether the civic pride of the voters will rebuke these obstructionists for their misleading statements by voting to find the cost of the Parkway.' This election is to find out the cost of the Parkway. It will not

REALTY VALUES MORE THAN DOUBLED BY PARKWAY, SAY KANSAS CITY LANDOWNERS

Increase Came Immediately and Has Ranged From 100 to 300 Per Cent—Beneficial Influence Widely Felt.

What effect will the Parkway have on property values? Will it result in the rehabilitation of the district between Grand avenue and Twelfth street, and Olive street and the Mill Creek Valley? These questions have been asked many times during the Parkway campaign by citizens interested in the welfare and progress of the city, but who are undecided how to vote on the proposal.

Kansas City has been building during the last 15 years the magnificent Paseo boulevard and Parkway, which varies in width from 100 to 565 feet, and which has been completed for a distance of nine miles. This Parkway was built, in part, through dilapidated and run-down districts of Kansas City. To determine whether there has been actual increases in property values, due to the influence of the Parkway, the Post-Dispatch had many property owners on the Paseo interviewed.

These interviews demonstrate that there was an immediate increase of more than 100 per cent in property values on the Paseo, and in some instances was more than 300 per cent.

KANSAS CITY, June 3.—Investigation shows that the old residential district near Eighth street was saved from degenerating into a cheap boarding house district, and that at another point negro shacks were swept away and the property became desirable for high-class apartment houses and residences through the building of the Paseo. The influence spread westward and resulted in the development of a fine family hotel and apartment house district, which, otherwise, would have been given up to tenements and cheap boarding houses.

The interviews with the Kansas City property owners contain convincing evidence that parkways result in great and immediate advances in property values. The experience of Kansas City, it is confidently expected, will be repeated in St. Louis if the Parkway should be constructed.

Here is what the Kansas City property owners have to say on this subject: B. T. Whipple, 4538 Warwick boulevard: Our family owned all the land between Eleventh and Twelfth streets on what is now the west side of the Paseo. At the time land was condemned for the Paseo it was selling at $20 a front foot. Now sales are being made for $120 a front foot for inside property. Without the Paseo the same land would be selling now at $30 a foot. The land taken eliminated a nest of negro cabins and transformed the section into a good apartment house district.

There have been built in the block referred to four fine large four-story apartment houses that would not have been located there if the Paseo had not been built. On the first street west and nearer the city, land has lately sold at $65 a foot for flat purposes. Our boulevard system has distributed the substantial residence portions of our city over a large area, preventing any single section from profiting at the expense of the whole city.

Geo. A. Moore, 3735 The Paseo: Before the Paseo was laid out the Rieger-Moore Realty Co. bought a 10-acre tract. We bought that ground at $15.60 a front foot. After the Paseo was laid out but before it was paved we sold part of the Paseo frontage at $43 a foot. We had put in sidewalks and had it graded—the grading costing about $2 a lineal foot. On the first street to the east, Flora avenue, topographically a better street, we sold ground at the time for $27. The next street east brought $24 a front foot and the next street $20. All was restricted to residences. Generally I will say, the boulevards have everywhere more than paid for themselves and the advance has been immediate.

Howard J. Freeman, owner of the St. Regis, Kansas City's newest and most fashionable family hotel, at the northeast corner of the Paseo and Linwood boulevard (Thirty-second street). The building of the Paseo and its subsequent extensions increased property values 200 per cent. The St. Regis corner cost $360 a foot figured on the narrower frontage. The Linwood boulevard front is worth twice as much as the Paseo as it is at Woodland, four blocks away. Counts have shown 1400 motor cars an hour passing our corner. I had experience with two pieces of vacant property near Tenth street, one on Vine street, the other on the Paseo. One sold for $25 a foot, the other for $150.

After 20 years' active experience in investments, I have found no investment that for quick and certain returns has compared with a boulevard. Some thought the Paseo might work hardships, but the returns came very quickly.

Louis Robidoux, 1208 The Paseo, who owns three large apartment buildings on the boulevard: I bought my ground after the Paseo had been started, paying $25 a front foot for it. Five years ago I added a 25-foot strip to my holdings, and had to pay $350 a foot for it. Before the Paseo was projected this land was worth $18 on an average. Perhaps I could have gotten my own land at $10 a foot, it was about the worst property along the line of the improvement, just as now it is about the best. Apartments on the Paseo are always filled. The improvement in some places has spread its influence over a considerable area. This is especially true between the Paseo and the business section, the boulevard sending a new traffic through the intervening district.

William F. Tuttle, 1012 The Paseo, whose home is one of the substantial residences in that neighborhood: This was very low-class property before the Paseo was built, worth about $25 or $30 a foot. After the Paseo was in, the lot on one side sold for $90 and a little later the other adjoining lot brought $125. Property in the neighborhood increased three-fold as soon as we could see what the boulevard meant.

J. J. Helm, 1010 Commerce Building, president of the Kansas City Breweries Co., who owns property at Seventeenth street and the Paseo: "It was very undesirable rental property before the Paseo came. Now it is not idle a day. I consider that my property doubled in value as soon as the Paseo passed it."

John J. Rieger, 901 The Paseo: Property in my neighborhood was selling at from $25 to $30 a front foot before the Paseo was laid out. I paid $4000 for my corner, 125 feet on the Paseo and 75 feet on Ninth street. With the Paseo, it is worth from $150 to $200 a foot. When a jog across the street was eliminated recently the condemnation jury placed a value of $300 a front foot on that property. Boulevards make the city without question. Without the boulevard our street would be worth no more than the corresponding sections of Lydia, Vine or Highland, selling at from $30 to $50 a front foot. I erected four buildings with nine apartments and have lost three days' rent in 14 years. The absence of "for rent" signs is a noticeable feature of the Paseo.

Edward Austin, who owns the apartment building at 1204 L. P. the Paseo: I bought my ground on a rising market on the strength of the Paseo going through. It more than came up to my expectations in results. The upward tendency began as soon as it was definitely known that the project was assured.

A. P. Nichols, 308 Gumbel Building: I owned a lot on the east side of the Paseo, between Tenth and Eleventh streets, that I sold shortly after the opening of the Paseo for $40 a front foot. It had been worth $25 prior to that time. A little later I sold a lot on the Paseo south of Twelfth street for $125. That was for ground value. On account of a frame house on it, it had been worth perhaps half that amount before the boulevard came.

John E. Loewer, 3429 The Paseo, of the John E. Loewer Wire and Iron Works, who also owns Paseo investment property: I have 100 feet frontage in my home site. I had acquired 50 feet before the Paseo was extended, paying $1650 for it. It cost $3000 to get the second 50 feet after the Paseo went by the property.

William A. Hoff, 107 East Thirtieth street: I was interested in property at Ninth and Paseo and have been at various times concerned with Paseo holdings, either as investment or in behalf of clients. My associate, Edward D. Kelley, is now interested in property on New South Paseo extension. My experience has been that the Paseo has raised the value of property not less than 50 per cent and that over and above the cost of the boulevard improvement. This is a very conservative statement.

J. W. Perry, president of the Southwest National Bank of Commerce, speaking for the Christian Church Hospital Association, which is just finishing the first building of its projected $1,000,000 plant at Twenty-seventh and the Paseo: We have a frontage on the Paseo extension of 65 feet and that was what prompted the selection of the site. Here was a section that the city was fast growing away from, but throwing open the Paseo has made it a very desirable location for hotels, institutions and apartment houses. Generally property two or three blocks away is materially benefited by a boulevard.

RIOTS RESULT FROM ANTI-GOVERNMENT MEETING IN TOKIO

Discussion of Chinese Negotiations in Japanese House Also Marked by Disorder.

TOKIO, June 3.—The holding of an anti-Government mass meeting in Tokio this evening resulted in serious disturbances. Many arrests were made and the manifestos issued by the organizers of the meeting were confiscated. Reinforcements of police were sent everywhere throughout the city. The resolution introduced in the House of Representatives yesterday by the opposition expressing lack of confidence in the administration was rejected today by a vote of 123 to 33.

Extreme disorder marked the session today. All the members of the Cabinet were in their seats. While Premier Okuma and Foreign Minister Kato defended the recent negotiations with China, K. Hara, M. Inukai and H. Ogawa attacked them. The resolution as introduced yesterday charged the Cabinet with having failed in the negotiations with China from the beginning; with having aroused the suspicions of foreign Powers and with having harmed the prestige of the empire.

Hoots, jeers and wordy altercations punctuated the speeches delivered today, but the ovations for Premier Okuma and Minister Kato smothered the cries of the opposition. K. Hara advanced the claim that Japan's aggression in China during the war in Europe had aroused misunderstandings, destroyed the friendship of the Powers and placed Japan in a position of isolation, while H. Ogawa made the declaration that concessions had been granted the Hanyeh-ping company because China had been backed by the United States.

Minister Kato denied that the Powers had voted the abandonment of the fifth group of Japanese demands. "We abandoned these in the interests of peace," he said. "No Power compelled us to do so. I am convinced that the intellectual classes of the world will understand and commend the course of Japan."

Great interest has attached to the announcements of Premier Okuma and Minister of War Oka in the Diet that the army is to be increased by two divisions. This is the first step to the eventual creation of an army of 20 divisions.

ST. LOUIS WOMAN UNABLE TO COLLECT $623 JUDGMENT

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 3.—Miss Lida T. Brasher of 456 North Newstead avenue, St. Louis, a teacher in the Ross Panning School, will not be able to collect, according to the present outlook, a judgment for $623 which she recently won against J. E. Mitchell, a caterer, for burns received when a waiter spilled hot coffee down her back last August.

When a deputy sheriff went to Mitchell's restaurant with an attachment yesterday, Mitchell sent his waiters away and closed the place. Mitchell owned the tables and chairs, which appraisers estimated to be worth $18.30. "I will claim my indemnity of $200 and settle the rest," said Mitchell. He then gave the deputy sheriff $18.30. The sheriff took $86 which was in the cash register.

SIR EDGAR SPEYER COMES TO AMERICA FOR A HOLIDAY

He Recently Resigned British Privy Councillorship Because of Suggestions of Disloyalty.

NEW YORK, June 3.—Sir Edgar Speyer, with his wife and family, have come to New York for a short holiday. They arrived today aboard the American liner Philadelphia from Liverpool. Sir Edgar recently resigned his privy councillorship of Great Britain because of growing suggestions and charges of disloyalty to the British crown.

The Philadelphia brought 715 passengers and bodies of eight who lost their lives when the Lusitania was sunk.

CARNIVAL TONIGHT TO AID BLIND

Work of Sightless to Be Shown and Entertainment Given.

The carnival for the blind, at Priest-er's Park, opens tonight with Mrs. L. L. Culver as "mother of the chapmans." All money received goes to the United Workers for the Blind of Missouri, the organization under whose auspices the carnival will be held Thursday to Saturday nights, inclusive.

Foremost of the carnival features will be a vaudeville show under the direction of the Blind Minstrels of St. Louis. The Missouri Association for the Blind will have an exhibit at the carnival, showing the blind at work making brooms, baskets and other useful things. Fancy work made by St. Louis blind women will be on sale.

WOMAN DOCTOR IS INDICTED

CHICAGO, June 3.—Two indictments have been found against Dr. Eva Shaver, her son, Clarence Shaver, and W. C. Harvey, janitor of the building in which the Shavers lived, in connection with the death of Miss Anna Johnson, found dead in the doctor's house with a bullet wound in the head.

One of the indictments charges murder and the other alleges an illegal operation.

WOMEN OBJECT TO SYMPHONY TEAS WITHOUT THE TEA

Voting to Continue Them, Committee Rejects Plan to Eliminate Social Feature.

Tea and sociability won a victory over the cultural lecture idea when members of the Women's Committee of the St. Louis Symphony Society, meeting at Cicardi's cafe, yesterday afternoon, voted to continue next winter the symphony teas which were held in the early months of this year.

Several of the women said there had been too much tea and too little attention to the symphony lectures, and that a number of the women had used the symphony teas as a means of paying social obligations. In this way, they said, persons have been invited who cared nothing about music or about the lectures, and who, even after hearing the lectures, did not go to the concerts.

These women suggested that, instead of the teas, symphony lectures, without refreshments or other social features, be held next winter in a hall. Mrs. B. Tausig said that this idea is a motion to the effect that the social feature be eliminated.

Social Feature Retained.
But Mrs. Charles A. Stix thought otherwise and said so most vigorously. The substance of her argument was that "it can't be done." She asked how many women could be persuaded to sit through two afternoon hours of lecture without so much as a sip of tea, and said frankly that the idea did not appeal particularly to her, and that many other women would not attend without some sort of social inducement, and that they would attend more than once.

She moved that the social and educational features be combined next winter, as they were last winter, and the motion was passed without a vote to the contrary.

Mrs. Stix also took the floor against a plan suggested by Mrs. Robert Atkinson, that an effort be made to bring about the levying of a direct tax for the support of the symphony society, as is done for the Art Museum and the Public Library.

Mrs. Stix said that if the orchestra were supported by public revenue, all concerts would have to be open free to the entire public. She said this would not be feasible. She suggested an endless chain membership campaign.

Symphony Programs Discussed.
The question of the character of symphony programs, which came up at last Friday night's annual meeting of the symphony society, was touched on by Mrs. Atkinson. She opposed the suggestion that Director Zach be asked to include an occasional "familiar" air in the programs.

"Are we going to keep rhapsodizing over the Sextet from Lucia all our lives?" Mrs. Atkinson asked. No one took the other end of this discussion. Mrs. Philip N. Moore presided, and Mrs. M. A. Goldstein spoke several times on different phases of the plans of the Women's Committee. The first fall meeting will be held Oct. 21.

St. Louis Union Bank Has Over Nine Million Dollars in Savings Deposits.
One reason for the large increase of savings deposits of the St. Louis Union Bank, Fourth and Locust, is that many people prefer a fair income and the knowledge that their principal is safe.

PREMIER OF ITALY DENIES BETRAYING FORMER ALLIES

Both Berlin and Vienna Received
Due Notice of Attitude in Servian Crisis.

ROME, June 3.—"We entered this, the greatest war in history, to safeguard the highest and most ancient aspirations of the most vital interests of our country," was the declaration of Premier Salandra in an address at the meeting held here yesterday to make plans for the relief of persons in civil life who may be made needy as the result of the war.

He spoke of "the justice of our cause and the sanctity of our war," and then reviewed the diplomatic events leading up to the conflict from the time of the assassination of Archduke Francis Ferdinand.

Italy's former allies, he declared, had no right to say Italy betrayed them, for she never disguised her views on the Austrian aggression against Servia and its consequences. In support of his argument he read a dispatch to the Duke of Avarna, Italian Ambassador to Austria, sent him on July 25, 1914, by the Marquis San Giuliano, the late Minister of Foreign Affairs, detailing an interview he had with Signor Salandra and Hans von Ploetz, then German Ambassador to Italy.

Warning Given to Austria.
In this interview the speaker declared he and Marquis San Giuliano pointed out to Herr von Ploetz that Austria, by the terms of the triple alliance treaty, had no right to take the step she had taken at Belgrade without previously coming to an agreement with her allies and that Austria's action clearly showed she desired to provoke war.

Premier Salandra asserted that, on July 27 and 28, 1914, the Italian Government raised in clear terms both at Vienna and Berlin the question of concession to Italy of the so-called Italian provinces held by Austria.
"We declared," he said, "that if Italy did not obtain adequate compensation
the Triple Alliance would be irrepara-bly broken. Impartial history will say that Austria, having found that Italy was hostile to aggressive intentions against Servia, arranged with Germany to take Europe by surprise by confronting it with an accomplished fact.
The horrible crime at Sarajevo was exploited as a pretext a month after it occurred. Foreign Minister von Berch-told told the Duke of Avarna on July 21 last that even if mediation were employed it would not stop hostilities with Servia.

Servian Integrity Not Assured.
"It was not true, as Count Tisza has pretended, that Austria engaged herself to respect the integrity of Servian territory. Kajetan Mery von Kapos-Mere, then Austrian Ambassador, told Marquis San Giuliano, July 20, that Austria could not give such an engagement, because she could not foresee that during the war she would not be forced against her will to retain Servian territory. In addition, Count von Berchtold declared to the Chamber of Deputies on Aug. 25 last, that he was not disposed to give any undertaking relative to the eventual action of Austria in case of a conflict with Servia."

ITALIAN RESERVISTS REGISTER WITH CONSUL; 750 EXPECTED

Men Who Returned to Colors as Soon as They Have Passed Physical Examination.

Fourteen Italian reservists had registered at the office of Chev. Alessandro
Brolezzi, the Italian consul, 929 North Seventh street, up to noon today, indicating their willingness to return to the colors. The Consul said that he had received messages from about 45 others announcing that they would register as quickly as possible. The Consul estimates that there are about 1500 reservists within his district, which includes Missouri and 11 counties of Southern Illinois, and he believes that about one-half will register.

When 100 reservists have registered, the Consul said, they will be given a physical examination. If they pass this they will be sent at once to New York and from there to Italy. There they will go to their native cities and towns and rejoin their organizations.
Scores of Italian laborers applied to the Consul today for an opportunity to enlist, but they were told that none could register unless they had already served in the army.

$1,120,000,000 QUARTERLY WAR FUND ASKED FOR IN FRANCE

Finance Minister Submits Statement
Showing It Would Increase Total
Appropriations to $4,800,000,000.

PARIS, June 3.—Alexander F. Ribot, the French Minister of Finance, today introduced a bill in the Chamber of Deputies providing for the appropriation of 5,400,000,000 francs ($1,120,000,000) provisionally for the requirements in the third quarter of the present year.
Ribot presented with the bill memoranda showing that the extraordinary appropriations since the war began and including the estimates for the third quarter of 1915 would amount to 22,000, 000,000 francs ($4,400,000,000). If one included the appropriations already made when the war began for the last five months of 1914, the total, the Finance Minister said, would rise to 24,000,000,000 francs ($4,800,000,000).

DOCTOR'S ASHES TO BE STREWN ON WATERS OF THE NORTH SEA

Globe-Trotter, Formerly in English
Navy, Advocated "Snake Venom Treatment" for Tuberculosis.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Dr. Joseph Ambrose Thompson, globe-trotter and advocate of the "snake venom treatment" for tuberculosis, died today at his home in Hyattsville, Md., a suburb of Washington. Some time ago Dr.
Thompson expressed the wish that his body be cremated and his ashes strewn on the waters of the North Sea, where he loved to cruise. This wish will be complied with.

The doctor came from a family of noted shipbuilders. He served several years in the British navy. An uncle, William H. Hopper, was British Ambassador to Constantinople during the Crimean War. Dr. Thompson came to this country many years ago, shortly after quitting the British navy, bringing an English bride with him.

VIKINGS VISIT PANAMA FAIR

People's Crew from Time of Lief Erikson Help Celebrate Norway Day.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 3.—Dressed as Vikings of the day of Lief Erikson, a crew of sturdy Norwegians was to sail a staunch "Viking ship" into the harbor at the Panama-Pacific Exposition today, chanting a hymn and opening the ceremonies planned for Norway day.

Several thousand members of the Norwegian societies gathered to welcome the ship and escort the crew to the Norway pavilion. There F. Herman Gade, Commissioner-General of his country to the exposition, was to plant a Norwegian spruce brought from Christiania for the purpose.

WAR FUNDS TO BE DISCUSSED

LONDON, June 3.—The Chancellor of the Exchequer, accompanied by the Governor of the Bank of England and the Financial Secretary of the Treasury, will meet the Italian Financial Minister at Nice this week.

"They will discuss financial questions arising from Italy's entry into the war," says an official statement issued last night.

TAFT POINTS OUT DEFENSIVE NEEDS OF UNITED STATES

First, He Says, Is to Bring Navy Up to Point Contemplated by Naval Board.

"News of battles on land and sea, and of the enormous forces of men and armament engaged, naturally rouse among our people an anxious inquiry into our condition of defense in case of the army and navy of any one of the belligerents were turned against us." This is the basis found in the European conflict, for a rather closely detailed statement by former President Taft as to the state of preparedness of the United States to take care of itself in the event of attack by any of the world's great Powers, published in the current issue of the Saturday Evening Post. He states that there is much to be done before the people of this country can regard with calm confidence any menace that may confront them.

Mr. Taft writes with the authority of a former Secretary of War for four years, followed by a similar term as chief executive of the country, and he has, since his retirement to private life, followed closely all that has been said and done in the matter of building up the country's naval and military arms. He maintains that there is no great occasion for present alarm, yet insists that reasonable preparations, particularly in the way of enlarging and strengthening the navy, is imperative to the end that no foreign Power attempt aggression in this direction.

The Lines of Preparation.

The former President's conclusions are summed up in these three recommendations:

"1. We ought to take immediate steps to bring the navy up to the point it would have reached had the policy recommended by the Naval Board not been departed from. This is of primary importance. So, too, is the supplying of the needed personnel to man the ships. This is the line of all others that we must strengthen, and this is the line with respect to which we have a certain measure—and that is a standard of equivalence with every navy in the world except that of England.

"2. We should fill up comparatively small gaps in our coast fortifications. This is, of course, important, but it is so easily within our immediate reach that it does not call for emphasis. The additional 10,000 coast artillery men we need, however, are of prime necessity and should be provided at once.

"3. The enlargement of our regular army to give us 75,000 effective men in the mobile army in the continental United States, the creation of a reserve, as suggested by Secretary Garrison, and a substantial increase in officers by enlargement of West Point and the establishment of a new academy in the West, are all steps that commend themselves as matters of exigency."

No Temptation Toward War.

Mr. Taft takes positive issue with those who antagonize preparing the country's military forces for any eventuality on the ground that to do so would be to create temptation toward war. He points out that the maintenance of a large standing army is next to impossible, because of the almost prohibitive cost of maintaining a large army on the present basis of the country's military organization. Without such a military arm, he states, an active military spirit is wholly improbable.

In support of this view he refers to the Mexican situation. There is, he says, sufficient naval strength to take all the ports of that country. Nevertheless, war with that minor Power would require not less than 200,000 men, and such an army would call for entire reorganization of that branch of the military service. Realizing this, there has been no tendency in any important direction to hasten a movement to enter and pacify that country, despite the severe provocation.

HOSTILITY TOWARDS AMERICANS SHOWN BY GERMAN SOLDIERS

Dutch Correspondent at the Front Gives Instances of the Display of Attitude.

LONDON, June 3.—The Nieuw Rotterdamse Courant's correspondent with the German forces on the French front says:

"The ill-feeling of the German soldiers toward the United States is shown by the change in the treatment of American newspaper representatives visiting the German lines. For example, I visited a battery of howitzers, and, as was my custom, offered cigars to the artillerymen. To my astonishment every man refused them. I learned a few hours later that they had mistaken me for an American.

"At headquarters were several American newspaper men. The corps commander invited us all to dinner. When they arose from the table the Major said he wished to give an American a small souvenir of their meeting. Thereupon he carefully took from his pocket two splinters of an American shell, which he presented to the correspondents without comment."

3 Killed in Effort to Free Prisoner.

MIAMI, Fla., June 3.—Three men were killed here in an attempt to free from jail John Ashley, sentenced to death for the murder of a Seminole Indian. His brother, E. H. Ashley, shot Jailer W. W. Hendrickson dead in an exchange of shots and Policeman Riblett and Ashley were killed.

MISS CATHERINE BARKER, $30,000,000 HEIRESS, ENGAGED

Daughter of Former Indiana Car Manufacturer to Wed Chicagoan.

CHICAGO, June 3.—Announcement of the engagement of Miss Catherine Barker, heiress to $30,000,000, to Howard H. Spaulding Jr., of Chicago, was made here today by James F. Forgan, president of the First National Bank and guardian for the young woman.

Miss Barker is the daughter of the late John H. Barker of Michigan City, Ind., a car manufacturer. She is 19 years old. Mr. Spaulding has been for some time attached to the Haskell & Barker Car Co. as assistant secretary. The wedding will take place July 1.

For the Thin and Bloodless

The thin and bloodless, with pale cheeks, white lips and frail angular physique, of this community have been much interested in the reports of physicians and others concerning the effectiveness of the treatment for increasing the red and white corpuscles of the blood, thus adding color and weight with accompanying vigor to the depleted system. A gain of from 10 to 30 pounds is not at all unusual where the treatment is regularly used for several months, while the color improves almost from the beginning. Most good apothecaries supply it in the form of three-grain hyponuclic tablets, put up in sealed packets with directions for home use. Its action aids assimilation and absorption of the food eaten very promptly.—ADVERTISEMENT.

When Glands Swell
Blood Needs Attention

Even a Sweat Gland May Result in Severe Consequence.

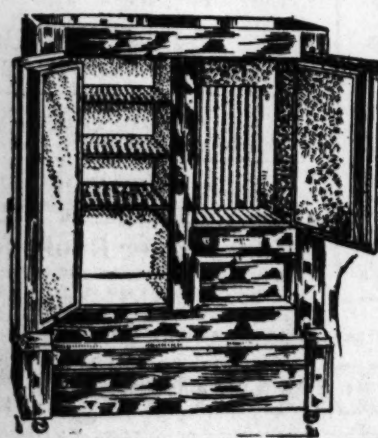

In our intricate body the use of B. S. S. for the blood has a most remarkable influence. We little realize our glandular system. It may be a tiny bulb no bigger than a pin point and yet if a disease germ gets into it, there is a tremendous swelling. It becomes a boil, a carbuncle, it may be a "blood rising," and it is often a source of continuous misery if not checked. Many of the most excruciating forms of torture begin with the swelling of a tiny gland, caused by a disease germ. And it is B. S. S. that spreads throughout the blood circulation to prevent just such conditions. Or if they have already started, B. S. S. will soon put the blood in such a state of health as to overcome the tendency to glandular swellings. It is a natural medicine for the blood, just as essential to health if the blood be impure, as are the meats, fats, grains and sugars of our daily food.

It contains one ingredient the active purpose of which is to stimulate the exchange of new flesh for dead or waste matter.

Get a bottle of B. S. S. today of any druggist, and if your case is stubborn, write to the Medical Adviser, The Buettner Co., 108 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. This department is in charge of a noted physician.—ADV.

NEW ELECTRIC RATE SCHEDULE BEING DRAFTED

Plan to Read Meters Quarterly Will Bring Slight Reduction, Company Says.

A new rate schedule and a system by which meters will be read every three months, instead of every month as at present, has been submitted to the board of directors of the Union Electric Light and Power Co. by A. C. Einstein, president of the company.

It was learned today by a Post-Dispatch reporter that the proposed system will be full of apparent complications, but that President Einstein believes it will result in a reduction of the rates. If approved by the directors the change in schedules and in the method of charging for the current will be announced not later than Aug. 1, subject to the approval of the State Public Service Commission.

The plan under consideration will refer only to residence schedules and rates.

Charge by Rooms.
Customers will continue to receive monthly bills as heretofore, but these will not be based on meter readings for the month, but on the number of "active" rooms in the customer's house. Kitchens, dining rooms, parlors, libraries and living rooms will be considered active, as heretofore, but only the number of bedrooms above three will be charged for. Thus a family having four bedrooms would be charged for only one and a family having six bedrooms would be charged for three.

In the monthly bills a flat rate for each active room will be made, the rate differing according to the season. In the winter months when the current is used the rate will be 35 cents for each active room. In the spring and fall months it will be 25 cents a room and in the summer months, June, July and August it will be 20 cents a room.

Thus a family having five "active" rooms would pay only $1 a month in the summer months, but at the end of the three-month period the company would read the meter and send a quarterly bill. If the meter showed that the family had used more electricity than it had paid for on its monthly bills, it would be required to pay for the excess current used. Thus there would be a bill to pay each month and another bill to pay at the end of each three months. The rate to be charged for the excess would be 6 cents a kilowatt hour up to a certain amount, to be fixed by the company. For any current used over that amount the rate would be 5 cents a kilowatt hour.

Means Slight Reduction.
Thus a family with five "active" rooms, after paying monthly bills in the summer months, might receive a quarterly bill showing that in fact it had used $6 worth of current. It would then be required to pay the additional $3 to the company.

The company figures that the new system will mean an average rate amounting to between 7 and 8 cents a kilowatt hour. The present maximum rate is 10 cents and the minimum 6 cents, which makes an average of 8 cents. At present a majority of the consumers pay less than the maximum rate. The last annual statement of the company showed that it received an average of 7.55 cents a kilowatt hour for residence lighting.

The company believes that the slight reduction in rate under the new system will be offset by the money saved in reading the meters quarterly. A large force of men is now employed in reading meters. The elimination of these readings in two out of every three months practically would reduce the expense of the work one-third.

President Einstein today told a Post-Dispatch reporter that the plan for reducing the rate of electricity for residence consumption was being considered by the board of directors, and he believed an announcement might be made as early as July 1.

The plan as here outlined was devised by Einstein. He said it would not be proper for him to discuss details until the board had taken action.

Put it on your new Ford car

WILL you get delivery of a new Ford this Spring? If so, here is a suggestion:

For your first spin bring the car to us. See the Gray & Davis Starting-Lighting System for Ford Cars. In a few hours time, if you desire, we can add to your car the services of electric starting and lighting from a battery.

The fine-looking 1915 Ford deserves this equipment—Gray & Davis equipment.

For, since 1908, when Gray & Davis produced the first successful electric lighting dynamo, their name has stood for the top-notch of simplicity and efficiency.

Owners of Used Fords:

You are not barred from this equipment. The System is made a part of any Model T with equal ease and certainty of results.

Drive around and find out full details.

MYSTERY IN RICH MAN'S DEATH

Oklahoma Seen in Wichita Park;
Body Later Found on Sandbar.
WICHITA, Kan., June 2.—Mystery surrounds the death of William Sherr, rich Blackwell (Okla.) hotel and farm owner, whose body was found on a sandbar near the Douglas avenue bridge yesterday. The authorities believe Sherr was stunned and thrown into the river. There were two silver dollars in his pockets. An autopsy established that he was alive when he struck the water. A wound on the head extended from back of the ear to the forehead.
Sherr was seen Tuesday afternoon near Wonderland Park with three men and a woman.

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM.

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles, that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be drastically independent, never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

FINE STATION; SQUALID SURROUNDINGS.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Inclosed is a bulletin of "Travel Studies" issued by the Institute of Educational Travel, New York, which numbers among its backers some very high-class citizens. In giving a synopsis of its South American and United States tours for 1915, it takes occasion to mention 17 cities in the United States which will be visited, and it briefly touches the high spots of interest to be met with in each of these cities.

To those residents of St. Louis who claim to possess civic pride, and who at the same time want to put on the brakes when an improvement like the proposed parkway is under discussion it may be of interest to note some of the features which impressed the editors of the Travel Bulletin. In practically every city named effort was evidently made to mention the attractive features:

Chicago: "The magnificent Burnham City Plan, designed to relieve congestion, to facilitate traffic, to safeguard health, and to transform Chicago into a city of great beauty. Lake front development. The city's system of main parks and neighborhood playgrounds, the finest in the country."

Madison, Wis.: "An unique city because of its system of the 'parkways' and parks."

St. Paul: "Of special interest is the scheme of capital approaches."

Minneapolis: "It refers to the lakes and park system, and the plan for the ideal garden suburb."

Seattle, Wash.: "The work of replanning the city and widening the streets after the fire."

Portland, Ore.: "It refers to the imposing public buildings, comfortable homes and abundance of flowers."

San Francisco: "One of the distinctive cities of the world." Refers especially to the Burnham City Plan and rebuilding.

Los Angeles: "The model industrial suburb of Torrance."

Denver: "Method of adopting public improvements and method of paying for same by vote of property owners affected. Unique system of mountain parks connected with the city by splendid boulevards and roads."

And look what it says of Kansas City, our near neighbor and friendly competitor:

"A city of wonderful growth, whose prosperity is founded upon the land. Of special interest: System of parks, among the finest in the world, the transformation of the city from ugliness to beauty within the space of a few years and the consequent increase in property values. New Union Station. The Cliff and Kersey Coates Drives. The Paseo, West Pennway and Penn Valley Park."

But whither? When it gets to our own fair city, the visiting editor, who presumably tried to find nice things to say about us—says: "St. Louis still reflects the spirit of the old days and preserves the ideals and traditions of the old aristocratic families." And under the heading "Of Special Interest," the only things it can credit St. Louis with are: "William B. Ewing's model school buildings, the great Union Station and its equal surroundings, some highly restricted residential areas, and the billboard fight." Then the editor adds "New central thoroughfare." He must be talking about the parkway that we hope we are going to have—or are we going to have it?

That's the thing that must be decided soon by the voters themselves. When St. Louis wakes up a little, and gets such things as the parkway, and does away with some of those "squalid surroundings" that greet the visitor's eyes and nose when he steps out of the Union Station; when the city clears out that square mile of blight between Grand avenue and Twelfth street; when our efficient city administration reduces to normal the smoke and dirt of the city, we shall then feel safe in inviting educational and travel bureaus to visit and describe; and they can then conscientiously say nice things about St. Louis, instead of making headlines on our "squalid surroundings." As a matter of fact, there are lots of interesting sights in St. Louis, and no city in the country has as good residence section. But the attractive features are scattered, and must be sought, while our most intolerable ones are pushed into the face of every visitor—he can hardly get away from them.

Some time ago the writer had occasion to travel through 20 states in 60 days. There was little time for searching out hidden places of interest in the various cities. Streets, boulevards, parks, hotels, playgrounds and railroad terminals were the things that struck the eye, like a moving picture.

These are things to be thought over by those residents of St. Louis who claim to possess "civic pride," but who throw their weight against every attempt at real progress.

Now let's all get together and change that. As a slogan, let's build that parkway!

E. V. BUNN.

DON'T BE A MOSSBACK.

One St. Louis architect shows progressive spirit and imagination in dealing with the parkway project. T. P. Barnett unqualifiedly approves the plan. He sees a great and valuable improvement—a notable, beautiful municipal feature—in the parkway which would mark a tremendous advance in St. Louis and place the city in line with the most progressive American city.

Mr. Barnett sees fine possibilities in the treatment of the parkway after the general plan is approved and says the Union Station plaza, as a gateway to the city, is worth the cost of the entire parkway. He gives this summary of reasons for popular approval of the parkway:

It will give a new view of and new surroundings to the city hall and Municipal Courts Building—the former, one of the handsomest public structures in America.

It will give Central St. Louis a breathing place for health and recreation.

It will enhance property values throughout the city by removing the old and disfiguring buildings which now occupy the space.

It will give work, in the wreckage of this area, to thousands of men.

It will stimulate the real estate market, and the business of building contractors and the building trades, and will employ a vast number of labor union members in the erection of new buildings, to house the residents and business now in the parkway strip.

It is large enough in its scope, and is in every way suited, to add to and connect with any other city development or improvements that may be suggested in future years.

It will furnish, in the tract bordering the parkway, a site for the erection of fireproof apartments for working men's families.

The issue raised in the parkway election is: Shall St. Louis go forward or slip backward? Voters who do not go to the polls and cast their ballots for the parkway as well as those who vote against it will help the mossbacks and support the backward movement.

DON'T BE A MOSSBACK.

SHAPING UP FOR PROSPERITY.

Government agents report 50,000,000 more bushels of wheat in sight, from this year's crop, than was expected.

Also, an 80-per-cent cotton condition average, on 20 per cent less acreage, as against 74 per cent a year ago. The South has put in 20 per cent more grain. It will sell less cotton for a higher price and grow more of its own food.

These are auguries of prosperity on the nation's farms, certain to be promptly reflected in quickened industry in the towns and cities, regardless of what may develop in other lands.

TIME FOR A TRACTION CLEAN-UP.

As a suggestion on the United Railways' own initiative for improving its service, the plan to reduce the running time of cars by decreasing the number of stops is refreshing.

"We have never made an actual test of the plan, but it unquestionably would be speedier," says President McCulloch. Why should not a tentative approval of the suggestion be given, dependent on the results of a test for a month or longer?

Of course if the new schedule of stops is brought forward to enable a less number of cars to do the work of those now operated, no very enthusiastic public advocacy of the plan is to be expected. But if the same number of cars now operated is continued in service, or is even increased, each car will be enabled to increase its average number of trips and hence to carry more passengers, relieving congestion.

This new question of reduced stops is a reminder that we have other and unsettled traction questions, some of them of long standing. One of them is the question of extensions to portions of the city which have been held back for years because of a lack of street cars. As soon as the parkway campaign is over all these problems should be attacked with vigor and disposed of in a manner that will safeguard the city's interests and at the same time give the public the benefit of improvements.

Extended franchises will be necessary, but this is only to cover the new territory. No extension of the life or enlargement of the terms of present franchises should be granted. Let us have a general traction clean-up and get out of the way matters over which there has been dillydallying for years.

A SCHOOL BOARD BLUNDER.

The Board of Education, voting to deprive 14,000 children in the city's congested district of their accustomed opportunity to attend continuation and vacation summer schools, committed a blunder that looms larger the more it is examined.

The Board's failure to notify the Recreation Commission of its purpose not to open the summer schools places upon the Commission, unexpectedly and without funds to meet it, the extra task of caring for most of these 14,000 children during the morning hours when they should be, and would prefer to be, attending school.

The summer teaching corps also, it appears, was not notified of the Board's purpose not to open the schools, or not in time to permit those who would have done so to take the examination for playground instructors. Many, therefore, are idle who would have preferred to be and might have been employed.

The Board's action exhibits an indifference to the welfare of the children, a want of the co-operative spirit toward the Recreation Commission, and in general an arbitrary humor which is, to say the least, not in keeping with its character as the trustee of a public service.

It has been suggested that the Board's purpose in keeping the summer schools closed for an alleged lack of a few thousand dollars to conduct them as usual, is the opening gun in a campaign to get a higher public school tax rate. The Post-Dispatch suggests that, before anything of this kind is attempted, this Board (whose want of a few thousand dollars to conduct summer schools for 14,000 children who greatly need them is ascribed to extravagance in other directions), should ask for an official investigation of its management of its yearly budget of $3,500,000 to $4,000,000. One thing the people of St. Louis will not tolerate is waste or mismanagement of their public school system's funds.

The Board of Education, by its decision not to open the summer schools, itself raises the issue of its ability fitly to manage the trust committed to its care.

THE MEXICAN WARNING.

There is no room for misunderstanding of either the meaning or the spirit of President Wilson's Mexican message.

Calling attention to the failure of Mexican leaders to agree and restore order, to the devastation wrought by continued factional warfare, to the insecurity of life and property for both Mexicans and foreigners and to the starvation confronting the people, he warns the leaders that they must come to terms for peace and order.

The patience and good will of the United States Government has been proven. The President reiterates our intention to act in Mexico for humanity alone. We do not want Mexican territory; we do not want war with Mexico or the trouble of policing Mexico; we do not want to intervene; we want peace and order—these are now imperative to save the Mexican people. The message is summed up in these words:

I feel it to be my duty to tell them (the heads of Mexican factions) that if they cannot accommodate their differences and unite with this great purpose within a very short time this Government will be constrained to decide what means should be employed by the United States in order to help Mexico save herself and serve her people."

If the Mexican leaders have neither the wisdom to understand the situation nor the strength to act upon this warning the consequences will rest upon their heads.

IN TROUBLED CHICAGO.

Just as 20,000 striking carpenters decide to return to work, making jobs for 80,000 members of other building trades, in Chicago, the 10,000 street car men of that city vote to strike. It's just one big strike after another in Chicago.

AN ISLAND AMONG ENEMIES.

The last gap in territory hostile to Germany and Austria in the southeast will be closed if Bulgaria and Rumania get into the war. Short portions of that line of enemy territory are held by Montenegro and Servia and a great sector of hundreds of miles is held by Russia.

To the east is Belgium and France, with Great Britain as an enemy outpost across a short stretch of sea. On the south is Italy. At one place on the border of the territory of the Germanic allies, Denmark and Holland occupy a few miles. At another Switzerland is interposed as a buffer, but just beyond Switzerland is hostile French and Italian territory. At every other place on a frontier of several thousands of miles Germans and Austrians would be confronted either by enemies armed to the teeth or by limited extents of sea largely controlled by enemies.

That "steel ring" encompassing her would be more than figurative. With Holland and Denmark in, as well as Bulgaria and Rumania, Germany and Austria would become a great island surrounded on all sides by foes struggling desperately for their defeat.

A POLITICAL SPITE FENCE.

Republican ward bosses, refusing to endorse the parkway in order to punish the people for abolishing the spoils system at city hall, are trying to build a spite fence across the path of St. Louis' progress.

Up, guards, and swat 'em!

EVERY COLONEL HIS OWN CLUB.

The anti-locker law, supposed to be the last word in prohibition legislation, has gone into effect—terrible effect—in Tennessee. It prevents club members from looking up beverages in their lockers, and has already made club life in Memphis resemble dust-covered vegetation in time of drought. Indeed it has had the effect of driving members of fashionable clubs with dry loads of liquor into their very homes. May we suppose that the women intended that prohibition should go so far?

A Colonel's house is his castle, by virtue of the Constitution, and neither police nor excise man can presume to say him nay if he chooses to lead a club life in his own domicile or entertain fellow-colonels in the pantry. Here he can convert the entire domestic regime into club service, be chairman of his own House Committee, enjoy himself to the full without pain of expulsion, and even refuse to pay dues.

We should not be surprised to note a prompt relaxation in Tennessee law enforcement due to the ladies' realization that they have overreached themselves.

A SUFFRAGE STATE DIVORCE CASE.

Promising to contribute of her means to help pay his way through school, Mrs. Jennie Sachet of Denver married a medical student. Matches made under such an arrangement are by no means unknown to the divorce courts. Generally the records show that the bride kept her part of the promise with fidelity, but that the husband, on gaining professional success and affluence, wrecked the romance. In the Denver case Mrs. Sachet continued to endow her student with her worldly goods until her means were exhausted. When everything she had was gone, dissensions arose. She sued for divorce on the ground of non-support, but the court gave Mr. Sachet the divorce, the wife's inability to fulfill completely the antenuptial pledge figuring in the decision.

That a husband can, by a promise before marriage, obtain release from his obligation to support his wife and even impose on her a duty to support him seems, of course, a striking feature of the case. But a more striking feature is that such a decision is possible in a State like Colorado, where the women have been voting since 1893.

Speed Up!

Unless you rate a little above the average you will have plenty of moribundous companionship.

MOSSBACKISM.

VISITOR: Isn't this the site of your fine new Parkway?

ST. LOUIS MOSSBACK: Yes, but we'll stop that folly; it would cost money and disturb business and our tenants.

JUST A MINUTE

Written for the POST-DISPATCH
by Clark McAdams

MR. ANTWINE ON WAR GOSSIP.

"SINGULARLY enough, almost none of the real news of the war appears in the newspapers," Mr. Antwine said. "Any drummer coming through Bald Knob can tell you more war news in thirty minutes than you can read in thirty days. The newspapers somehow don't seem to get the inside facts. Only drummers, business men and pry-arounders get those. There was a drummer here yesterday who knew more about the war than Lord Kitchener or Gen. Joffre. He had a German spy system established in this country that beat anything in Europe. There were even German spies at his company's shoe factory. They knew where every pair of shoes sold to the allies went, who wore them and how often they took them off. When I questioned the need of any such spy system in this country, he declared I know no more than the newspapers know and wished I might some day sit in a meeting of his company's directors!"

"Some time ago I began keeping a record of current war stories not appearing in the press. I found that thirty-five drummers had a friend who had actually received the now celebrated stamp letter. You will recall that this letter came from Germany, that the writer said food was plentiful, but that under the stamp, where the censor had not thought to look, it said 'We are starving.' It seemed that those letters were thick, but that the newspapers had never gotten hold of one of them. Another story is that of the two children from Belgium with their hands cut off. Twenty drummers have assured me they know where those children are. The newspapers have never located them. The same sort of bunk pertains to every phase of the war. What we all know through credible channels of information is nothing to what almost any individual knows. The more ignorant the man, the more he knows. I call it war gossip, as distinct from war news. There isn't a thing in it. If you don't see it in the newspapers, it isn't so. Just put that in your hat, and you can't go wrong. All I know about the war I read, and if anybody knows more than I do about it at this distance from the scene of action, it is because he can read faster than I do or loaf around a bigger postoffice."

Dr. Dernburg will leave the United States for Norway, sailing on a Norwegian steamer. How would it affect his philosophy to be blown up at sea and have to float around on a plank until someone more charitably disposed than the Kaiser's seamen picked him up?

Maybe the warring Mexican chieftains will be able to get together against us.

THE RUSSIANS.

THE Russians have lost Przemyel, and we have them to thank for the recurrence of that unfortunate arrangement of letters in the daily news. To think of the promptness with which they were going to Berlin fills one with a quiet and deep-seated amusement that is as efficacious in early summer as hog jowl and greens. There is something the matter with the Russians, but what? Some people say they have no ammunition; others think they are without competent officers; still others are of the opinion that they are without adequate arms. Whatever it is, they are without it. The bear that walks like a man is no bear at all. He is a Teddy bear. If the war were between Russia and Germany the capital of Russia would be in Siberia, and the Germans would have the unhappy Slavs caught in a jam between the iron-handed Teutons and the man-eating Japs. The czar is the sick man of Europe. By comparison with him the Sultan looks like a man who moves pipes organs.

JUNE 3.

Only five days now remaining

In the fight for better things,

Till we show the anti-parkites

What is happening to kings.

The men who flip pennies with all-day suckers going in and out of Union Station wish to announce through Just a Minute that they are for the Parkway. They have been severely cramped in this work, and there have at times been so many games going on in one alley that there was almost no room to flip. The prospect of holding these contests behind flower beds and on isolated grass plots is particularly pleasing to the fraternity, and it is with us to a man.

People who have seen President Wilson of late can see no external sign of the singular stress of his office these past few months. We knew it. A man who has been President of a big American university has nothing to fear from any other post of duty.

In Chicago, where they know how to play baseball, they have two teams leading their leagues and a third team in second place. If they had a team running last up there they would put it in the Field Museum.

If the Parkway proposed a place where boys would have free access to municipal cherries, it is likely that everybody with a cherry tree would be enthusiastic about it.

"Where is drunkness most prevalent?"
"Well, England is always spoken of as the tight little 'Isle.'"

The architects would better build up their anti-Parkway argument a little.

What an explanation Dr. Dernburg could make of Germany's answer!

Commend us to Mr. Koltschneider's philosophy for an old curiosity shop.

The Weather Man remains true to the Parkway.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

A READER OF THE PAPER.—Try phoning department stores or see Woman's Exchange.

NEUTRAL.—You cannot set sail, the lease because of not receiving the duplicate.

H. A.—Present Pope was born in Padua, near Genoa, Italy. He is tall and slender, quiet and reserved.

R. D.—Though wife deserted you eight years ago, you had better get a divorce, including usual proceedings.

A. P. D. LOVER.—Report photoplay camera to postoffice inspector, Ninth and Olive, and to Prosecuting Attorney, where they do business.

ANXIOUS.—Engagement announcement may be hidden in walnut shells or some other small receptacle, and may read Cupid takes pleasure in announcing the engagement of Miss Anita Angshus and Bolivar Boldman.

M. C.—As in getting first papers you gave your right name, and afterwards merely translated it into English, the Court will give you the name you wish, when you apply for second papers.

N. C. K.—If the gas (fuel) pipe belongs to tenant, he has right to remove it, as such are put in easy to remove without damage to property. We advise you not to do anything, and drop the matter.

READER.—At proper time you can expect settlement of the other case, an attorney to look up records and verify the same. Trustees would only be removed for good cause and not because heirs do not like them.

FAIRWEATHER.—One partner cannot compel the other to sell out to him. Unless you can mutually agree, all that is left is to wind up the business, as the agreement says neither can dictate any terms to the other.

H. A.—As to the mortgage, or any other instrument, you need not record same at once; however, a wise man does so immediately, thereby giving notice to everyone of his right, title and interest. Do not to please or shield a mortgagor withhold the deed of record, as you endanger the security by so doing.

B. J.—In your case it would make no difference, as the entire cost of improving either street would fall to the contractor, whether he owned the buildings, with a depth of center of lot, as to the improving of street fronting the house sold, you would escape the payment for such improvement.

XIZ.—Testimony of insane person, unsupported by other testimony, would hardly be considered by any court. You may be tried for insanity, but Court might consider your statements, could you prove them. You should have verified the report that you had been divorced.

H. D.—St. Louis is 417 to 367 feet above sea level; San Antonio, 637 to 701; Denver, 513 to 531. Some "curious" altitudes: Swedenborg 1119, Richmond 114, Neshon 131, Granby 107, Stratford 142, Niagara 140, Marshfield 141, Lebanon 128, Stoutland 111, Crocker 113, Dixon 130, Frank 101, Jerome 95, Arlington 80, Newburg 73, Rolla 104, St. James 107.

L. X. A.—For any shortage, holder of paper has recourse upon maker of notes secured by the deed or the purchasers of property who assumed and agreed to pay the indebtedness. You, as holder, having purchased the real estate, it is a liability which you would have to hold them. The foreclosure wipes out the deed of trust and you haven't anything to release.

THANKFUL.—While your daughter would hardly be successful at this time, she may at your death, in obtaining compensation under the promise you made. Do you think it just to go back on the promise to your daughter, made under the circumstances and in consideration for valuable services rendered, and distinguished by the fact of your being a stepfather? Are they closer to you than your own daughter? Has she been faithful and dutiful to you prior to and during your widowhood? Would it be a good thing to prove to your wife and your daughter as well, no such obligation rests upon you as a stepfather? From your own statement it appears your daughter's stepmother is influencing you.

Chapter XXXVII.

"W H Y didn't you tell me you had lunched with Lucius Hemming at the Milestone?" I asked Jane the next morning.

"Perhaps because you didn't ask me, and perhaps for the same reason that you didn't tell me you lunched at Harnden's with Miss Reese," she replied calmly.

"I was angry and could feel my face flushing. Her manner exasperated me. It was so absolutely indifferent. Of course, I had lunched with Miss Reese, but that was quite a different matter, mine was a business affair entirely, while here—"

"The cases are totally different!" I exploded. "I wished to talk business with Miss Reese, and by lunching with her we could talk undisturbed."

"Yes!"

"A business luncheon with a trained nurse is quite a different proposition from a social luncheon with a man who is half in love with you!"

"Yes!" again.

"I have told you that I do not want you to go out alone with Lucius Hemming!" It was no fault of yours that you and he did not lunch all alone this other day, even if you did pretend to Prudence that I was expected."

I stormed; then seeing her still impassive, evidently unimpressed by my displeasure, I continued, "I do not want you to be seen with Lucius Hemming, too, less either his wife or myself are with you. I expect to have any wishes respected."

"H A V E you quite finished?" Jane asked. "If you have, I have something to say. I haven't YET told you that I don't wish you to lunch with Miss Reese, simply because I know, have known all along, that it would do no good, and I do not choose to humble myself unnecessarily, but," very quietly, "what's sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander, George, and I intend to do as I please—just as you do."

Afterward I remembered that Jane had not told me how she knew I had lunched with Miss Reese, nor how Hemming had happened to invite her so soon after she had called me up to ask me to meet her. I knew, neither of us would ever reopen the subject, so concluded I should never know.

For some days after this we were frigidly polite to each other, neither willing to be the first to make any overtures; but gradually, without again mentioning the cause of our quarrel, Jane, as well as myself, resumed our usual manner toward each other.

I had again talked with Miss Reese, this time at the hospital, and she had promised to come to me when her month of work was up, which would be in about ten days. I was delighted and so remarked to Jane that same evening:

"Miss Reese will be in the office after the first night of the month."

"She is coming, then?"

"Yes, I consider myself very fortunate to secure her. I have never met a more capable woman for such a position. She is most tactful, too, which is another great asset in a nurse."

"You are enthusiastic."

"I have reason to be. She is one in a thousand."

Then, as Jane made no further remark about her coming, I continued:

"It will be a great relief to me."

"Yes!"

"You don't object, do you?" I queried.

"What good would it do if I did?" she asked, not looking up from her book.

"None. But I was anxious to know if you had been foolish enough to take a dislike to her because I once happened to take her to luncheon. I should be sorry if you felt unfriendly toward one who will be so closely associated with me. Try and be sensible, Jane, and like Miss Reese. She is a refined, educated woman and might occasionally—when I can spare her—prove a pleasant companion for you."

JANE laughed, the laugh that I hated to hear, and replied as soon as she could control her voice.

"You are very kind, but I prefer to choose my own companions, thank you!"

I said nothing more, and in spite of Jane's attitude I did not worry about what she might do. When she had displeased me, I had shown her plainly that I did not like certain things, would not stand for them, in fact. But I cannot say that I ever for one moment honestly worried about Jane; about her actions.

Women of Jane's type require some strong impelling motive before they will set aside the conventionalities of a lifetime. It is one thing for a woman to say to her husband, as Jane did to me, "What's sauce for the gander is sauce for the goose," but quite another thing for her to try the sauce.

(To Be Continued.)

SOME NEW RECIPES.

Tapioos Ice—One cup tapioos soaked over night; in morning put on stove and when boiling hot add a cup sugar and boil until quite clear; chop one pineapple, pour the tapioos over it, stir all together and put into molds. When cold serve with sugar and cream, or any fruit can be used.

Rhubarb Pie—Line plate with rich pie crust. Skin rhubarb and cut in half-inch pieces, using one pound to a pie and put into dish and pour boiling water over it and let stand 5 minutes. Mix 2 tablespoons of flour with 1 cup of sugar and add 1 beaten egg and remove rhubarb from water and mix up, put into crust, cover and bake. Rub milk over top of pie.

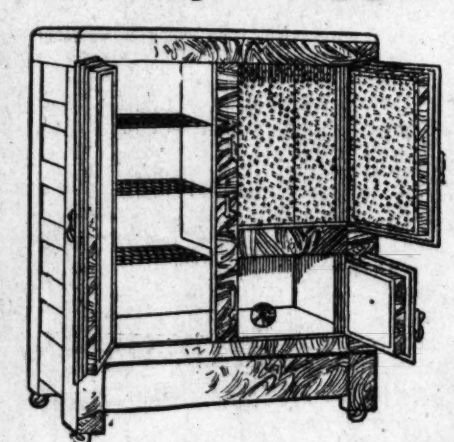

Orange Pie—Use this same recipe for lemon pie and instead of 2 lemons use 2 large sour oranges and 1/2 a lemon, and instead of 2 cups of sugar use 1 1/2 cups. This gives a pleasant variation and a much more delicate flavor.

Macaroni with Bacon—Boil your macaroni until well done, put into baking powder dish, turn a tomato sauce over the macaroni, then place 5 or 6 thin slices of bacon on the top. Put in hot oven and let bake until bacon is crisp.

FALLS OFF TOP OF TRAIN COACH

Max Stealing Ride, Hurt Internally and Nose and Cheek Broken. Arthur Raymond Boles, a switchman, 22 years old, of 214 South Second street, fell from the top of a Wabash passenger coach on which he was stealing a ride when the train rounded a sharp curve near Maple avenue last night. He was taken to the city hospital, where it was found his left shoulder was broken, his nose fractured and that he was internally hurt.

Boles said he boarded the train after it left the Rosedale station and intended to beat his way to St. Charles.

An out of town wedding of interest to St. Louisans is that of Oscar E. Brueggemann of St. Louis and Miss Louise Malmgren, daughter of K. G. Malmgren of Spokane, Wash.

The wedding took place Tuesday in Spokane. It was a quiet affair on account of the recent death of the bride's grandmother.

Mr. Brueggemann and his bride went directly to the Malmgren country home on Lake Newman to spend their honeymoon and will come to St. Louis about June 15 to reside.

Mr. Brueggemann is one of the six sons of Mrs. Alvina Brueggemann of 225 North Euclid avenue.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Henry McRee on Tuesday. Mrs. McRee was formerly Miss Gladys Cupples Scudder, the second daughter of Mrs. William H. Scudder. Since their marriage about a year ago Mr. and Mrs. McRee have made their home with Mrs. Scudder in the Samuel Cupples residence at 2673 West Pine boulevard.

A son was born Monday to Mr. and Mrs. James H. Platt in San Francisco. Mrs. Platt formerly was Miss Ann Drew, one of the talented daughters of the Mr. and Mrs. Francis A. Drew. She was not only a belle in the fashionable set, but was actively interested in civic work to the extent of working under an assumed name in a candy factory in Chicago to find out how the girls lived. She also was an instructor of dancing in one of the playgrounds.

Two of Miss Juanita Wilkinson's guests, Misses Eunice Jackson and Evelyn Douglas, who have been entertained so much during their stay, departed for their home in Nashville, Tenn., last night. Miss Laura Fite, also of Nashville, who completed the house party, has remained.

There has been a round of impromptu luncheons and parties out at the country clubs for the visitors. Miss Wilkinson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melville L. Wilkinson of 400 Westminister place and a debutante of last winter.

Mrs. Earle Hay Reynolds of Chicago, who was Miss Mary Scudder, arrived last evening to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles White Scudder of 75 Vandeventer place.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Haley of 9 Lenox place are entertaining Mr. Haley's sister, Mrs. David Thornton of Kansas City, who came on for the golf tournaments at the Belleview and the Glen Echo Country clubs.

Mrs. James Sheppard Smith of 4515 Westminister place and her daughter, Miss Sunie Smith, will go to Pointe-aux-Barques, Mich., where they have a summer home, about the middle of June. They will be joined there by Mrs. Smith's father, J. Charles Cabanne, who has gone to New York to visit another daughter, Mrs. Everett W. Little.

GIRL JUMPS TO DEATH FROM CROWDED KANSAS CITY BRIDGE

Stratford Dives After Her But Falls in Attempt at Rescue in Swollen Kaw River.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 3.—Miss Zyrilda Gould, 17 years old, climbed upon the guard rail of the James street bridge at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and, while hundreds of persons looked on, leaped into the swollen Kaw River, 40 feet below. Frank Deer, a carpenter, dived into the river after her, but couldn't find her.

With three girl companions, Miss Gould was on her way home from her work. Near the center of the bridge she suddenly stopped. "Oh, look at the funny man coming back there," she exclaimed. The girls turned to see "the funny man." When they turned again the saw Miss Gould jump from the guard rail. The body was found half an hour later by a fisherman.

Don't Stay Gray

Tint your hair to the shade desired with "Brownatone." This new preparation is far superior to any mixture that contains henna, sulphur, silver, lead or similar preparations.

There is no danger of an itching or poisoned scalp when you use "Brownatone," for this simple preparation positively confines no lead, mercury, silver, sulphur, zinc, antine, coal-tar products or their derivatives. You just brush or comb it into the hair and presto!—your gray hairs instantly disappear—your hair is a beautiful and uniform color throughout—the ends are as dark as the balance and you have any shade desired from a light brown to a black. Just a moment's "touching up" once a month and no one can ever detect it.

No rubbing or washing off—no staining. Prepared in two shades—one to produce golden or medium brown, the other, dark brown or black. Two sizes—25 cents and $1.00.

We will send absolutely free, for a short time only, a sample bottle of "Brownatone" if you will send us your name and address, accompanied by 10c to help pay postage and packing. No samples at dealers. This offer is made for you to try "Brownatone" Hair Tint, and find for yourself its superior it is to all so-called "dye" combs, etc. The Kenton Pharmacal Co., 559 Pike Street, Covington, Ky.

JUDGE AFFIRMS 8 WOMEN'S FINES AFTER CRITICISM

Women of Neighborhood Association Had Complained of Previous Dismissal of Cases.

Following the publication, in yesterday's Post-Dispatch of a letter to Judge B. F. Clark of the Court of Criminal Correction, criticizing his action in dismissing women convicted in police court on vice charges, Judge Clark today affirmed police court fines against eight such women and reduced the fines of two others.

The letter, which was signed by Mrs. John W. Day, Miss Mary E. Bulkley and Mrs. Catherine Fertig, officials of the Neighborhood Association, stated that Judge Clark had dismissed 75 out of 76 such cases appealed to him during January, February and March.

They said, in their letter, that the persons who really profited by the Court's leniency were not so much the women themselves as the men who receive the greater part of the women's earnings.

Leniency Nullifies Police Work. The Neighborhood Association's headquarters are at 817 North Nineteenth street and the officials of the association charge that commercialized vice has been re-established in this vicinity, in spite of the efforts of the police to suppress it. The chief factor in its growth, they declare, has been the leniency shown in Judge Clark's court, which has nullified much of the work of the police.

The first two women who were arraigned before Judge Clark today had been previously convicted, and had been released by Clark. They admitted this, and the Judge told them he wished to treat them fairly, and did not like to send them to the workhouse, but that his patience had a limit. He took the same action, however, in the cases of three others who were not shown to have been before him previously. All had been convicted in Police Court of unlawful behavior toward passersby on Washington avenue and Locust street, and had been fined $10 each.

FARMER KILLS WIFE AND SELF

Shotgun Used by Man at Croston, Mo.—He Had Been Sued for Divorce.

CHARLESTON, Mo., June 3.—J. A. Nolan, a farmer, 60 years old, who lives near Croston, Mo., 10 miles southeast of here, shot and killed his wife and himself with a shotgun Tuesday. The couple had been separated for some time and Mrs. Nolan had gone to the home of her sister, Mrs. Ward. Nolan came there and begged her not to leave him. A moment later Mrs. Ward heard one shot fired in the house. She ran for help, but before she could return a second shot was fired. Nolan and his wife were found lying on the bed. A divorce suit had been brought by Mrs. Nolan.

'BUTTON DAY' FOR BABIES' HOME

June 12 Selected as the Date by Women in Charge.

Two hundred women attended the reception given at the Planters yesterday in the interest of the Help the Babies campaign. June 12 was decided upon as "button day" for the Mothers and Babies' Home and another reception will be held next Tuesday, at which the final plans for the day will be decided upon. During the afternoon Mrs. Camerlock told of the work of the recent Mothers' Congress, Frank Wyman spoke of the work of the Children's Industrial Society, Miss Helen Weber gave a reading and there were musical selections by Mrs. Harry Crutcher and Mrs. E. A. Meisenbach.

PRINCE AUGUST REJOINS ARMY

Kaiser's Fourth Son Had Been Injured in Auto Accident.

BERLIN, via London, June 3.—Prince August William of Hohenzollern, fourth son of Emperor William, who was severely injured in an automobile accident on the western battle front during the winter, has so far recovered that he was able to start today to rejoin the staff of the army to which he is attached. The Prince, however, is still suffering from the consequences of the accident and it will be some time before he has fully recovered.

GERMAN TAX ON WAR PROFITS

Plan to Levy on Incomes of More Than $3000 Annually.

LONDON, June 3.—According to German newspapers received here, Bremen has taken the lead among German cities in a plan for a tax on war profits, to be levied on firms or individuals in receipt of an income of more than $3000 annually.

If the income of such firms or individuals in 1914 proves to be larger than in the previous year, this increase will be taxed at the rate of 10 per cent.

JAPANESE OFFICER ARRESTED

Plot to Give China Military Secrets Suspected—Others Involved.

TOKIO, June 3.—The morning newspapers give prominence to a story concerning the arrest of Capt. Naoyoshi Mamuro, adjutant commandant of the Malden fortifications, on suspicion that he was connected with a plot which involves several other officers, to supply secrets of the army and navy to Yuan Shi Kai, president of China, in 1914.

Capt. Mamuro was formerly instructor in the military school at Paoing-Fu, China.

Solid Concrete Reasons Why You Should Buy From WURLITZER

Because of the great variety and world-wide reputation of the instruments.

Because of the Wurlitzer Protective Selling Plan of "One Price to Everybody, and a Commission to Nobody," which means absolutely fair treatment and prevents overcharge.

Because Wurlitzer will give you liberal exchange privileges, and refund your money should you purchase a piano or player-piano and not find it exactly as represented.

Because Wurlitzer manufactures high-grade pianos and player-pianos ONLY, and sells to you with all middlemen's profits eliminated.

A high-grade Player-Piano—the ARTOLA—for $385. A high-grade Upright—the KINGSTON—for $195. Low terms of payment.

"—climbs like a chamois"

Some motor cars, like some animals, climb hills easily.

They have the excess of energy to meet continuously the ever increasing burden of uphill work without faltering or injurious strain.

The Chalmers New Six is such a car.

Its high speed, long stroke, valve-in-head motor with overhead camshaft delivers such a steady stream of abundant power that this car climbs hills like a chamois.

It has the power of a locomotive; it gets away like a racer.

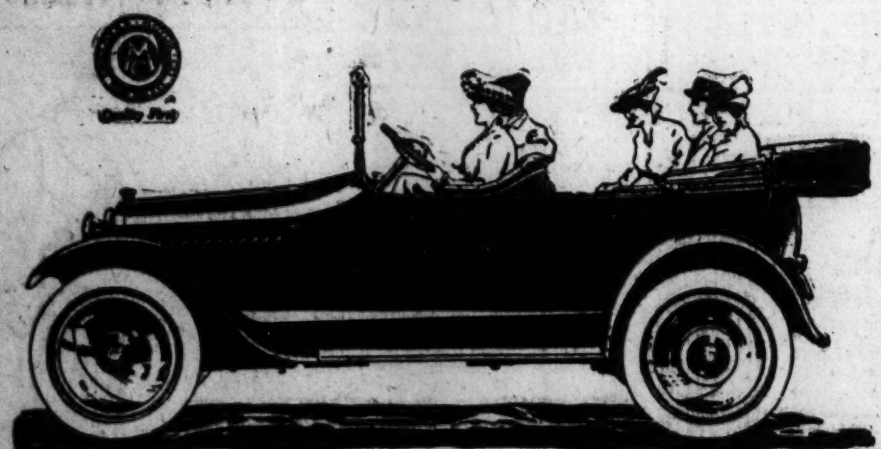

Come in and let us show you why this car is so different in construction, appearance, and performance.

QUOTES USHER IN URGING GERMANY TO STAND ON NOTE

Von Reventlow Writes of Alleged American-British Secret Agreement.

By Associated Press. BERLIN, via London, June 3.—The officials of the Government and the general public are waiting expectantly upon the American developments in the exchange of notes between Germany and the United States respecting the Lusitania—expectancy which is deepened by the fact that no trustworthy indications regarding the American attitude on the German answer are yet available here.

The German Foreign Office is unable to communicate with Count von Bernstorff, the Ambassador at Washington, except by wireless in plain language, and even this mode of communication is uncertain during periods when the static conditions of the atmosphere are unfavorable.

Reports which reach the newspapers are regarded with suspicion, not only because they are exclusively through British channels, but on account of their contradictory character. One set of reports intimates that the German counter-proposals have been found to harmonize with Mr. Bryan's plan of providing for a period of investigation in cases of international conflict, while other statements reproduce various American editorials, declaring that the German note is utterly unacceptable and demanding that steps of varying degrees of aggressiveness be taken.

Press Firebrands Active. While waiting, the time is being utilized by some of the more aggressive German newspapers and writers of the type of Count Reventlow to launch abusive articles against the United States and President Wilson's policy, but the press and public generally seem desirous of avoiding anything which might increase the tension between the two Governments while the German note is under consideration. In this they are acting in complete accord with the Foreign Office, which apparently is singularly anxious to preserve friendly relations with the United States and deprecates any publication which would tend to inflame the feelings either in Germany or America.

There seems to be no doubt that the Foreign Office would rejoice at a solution consistent with German interests, and it is considered here that one of the unfortunate features of the situation is the inability of the Foreign Office to cope with the chronic firebrands of the press.

Citations From Maher's Book. Count von Reventlow's contribution to the Tages Zeitung yesterday is a violent commentary on stories of the existence of a working agreement between the United States and Great Britain, supported by alleged citations from the book on Pan-Germanism by Prof. Roland G. Usher of St. Louis. He quotes Prof. Usher as announcing the existence in 1887 of a secret agreement on the part of the United States with Great Britain, France and Russia, for joint action against Germany, which agreement, he says, still exists. He urges, therefore, against the slightest concession on the part of Germany as harmful.

The Lokal Anzeiger, commenting on London dispatches regarding the forthcoming note from President Wilson, says: "We can calmly wait and see whether President Wilson follows Reuter's friendly advice. If he is really of the opinion that consideration of humaneness in this case was disregarded by Germany, and not by the Cunard Line, which embarked many passengers on a steamer loaded with war munitions, then all further discussion is superfluous. So, too, if he should characterize the thousands of cases of shells and shrapnel as a small quantity of ammunition—a characterization which would apply only if compared with the total consumption of the allies or their enormous orders in the United States."

"The head of the American nation, however, will probably not act according to Reuter's dictation. Reuter, in any case, will wait vainly for an acknowledgment by the German Government that a wrong was committed in sinking the Lusitania, and we shall continue our submarine warfare as Germany's vital interests may require."

ENGLISH INSURANCE FIRMS PAY $500,000 IN LUSITANIA CLAIMS. Represents Policies of 350 Lives—American Claims Probably Will Reach Three Times That Amount.

LONDON, June 3.—English insurance companies have already paid claims amounting to $500,000 in connection with the loss of life by the sinking of the Lusitania. This represents the sum payable on about 250 lives. Many more claims are expected to be filed. The American claims probably will reach three times this amount, according to the estimates here, as some of the American passengers were heavily insured.

No English company has so far confirmed the report that Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt carried heavy insurance on his life.

In the Love Game Self-Position in Nine Points.

Up-to-Date Answer.

THE teacher asked the class to form sentences in which the words "forlorn hope" appeared.
Seventeen papers were handed in. The one that got the highest mark read: "In round 26 the champion became a forlorn hope."

THE JARR FAMILY

Written for the Post-Dispatch
By ROY L. MCCARDELL

Mr. Jarr's Idea of a Piker Is a Man Who Is Living Within His Income.

MR. JARR was mad, but he strove to be calm.
"I wish you wouldn't run up your bills the way you do," said Mrs. Jarr. "Now, what's the matter with you?" asked Mrs. Jarr in surprise.
"Well, I'm being dunned for a bill for shoes. Shoes were not for me, either."

"You never mind about that bill—I'll pay it. You just attend to your own affairs and you'll have enough to do," said Mrs. Jarr, calmly.
"It looks as though it was my affair," said Mr. Jarr.

Mr. Jarr. "You know I don't want bill collectors coming to the office."
"I'm sure I don't want them to come to your office, if that's what you mean," replied Mrs. Jarr. "I don't want them to come to the house, either. I'm sure I can get along without them."
"I know of no way to keep bill collectors away, except not to run up any bills," said Mr. Jarr.
"You attend to your own affairs and I'll attend to mine," said Mrs. Jarr sharply.
"But the bill collector seemed to think it's my affair. He came after me for the money," replied Mr. Jarr.
"That's just the reason that I haven't bothered myself about paying that old bill," remarked Mrs. Jarr. "And now I'll be sure to take my time. And if they come to you again, you tell them I said so."

"Oh, they'll come to me again, all right," said Mr. Jarr. "I'll have to pay it some way, I suppose."
"Don't pay any attention to them. That's the best way," said Mrs. Jarr, as if that dismissed the matter.
"It isn't my paying attention, even if I can't pay the bill," said Mr. Jarr. "but I wish if you run up a bill you'd see about paying it."

"I would have paid it a long time ago," said Mrs. Jarr, "but they never came near me. I've treated me as if I were of no importance whatever—and there's Mrs. Stryver, who introduced me there, who runs up bills for shoes for hundreds of dollars, and they treat her as though she were a queen. So I said to myself, 'If these people don't think my little bill worth sending a collector for I won't bother with it. And then they got to sending me bills and writing me letters that were rude, to say the least, and so I determined, since they had been rude, they could wait for the money.'"

"They won't wait for it," said Mr. Jarr. "If I don't pay it—the bill's a year old—they'll sue me. I'll try to pay it next week, but I've got so many bills to meet."

"Haven't I?" asked Mrs. Jarr. "I would like to see you run this house on the little money I have, and everything so dear."
Mr. Jarr sighed. "I don't see how I can pay this week or next," he mused. "I've got my insurance to pay, and I've got another big bill."
"Why don't you pay something on your insurance and something on your other bill?" asked Mrs. Jarr. "You are always paying bills on time, and then you have no money left to pay something on other bills. If you pay a little on this one and a little on the other one you wouldn't feel paying for them."

"Why don't YOU pay a little on this one?" asked Mr. Jarr. "It would have been paid for by this time."
"That's just what I was going to do," said Mrs. Jarr with enthusiasm. "That's just what I was going to do! But I had so many other things I was paying a little something on every week that by the time I'd remember this bill all my money would be gone. Anyway, the shoes didn't give satisfaction. I bought a pair of high-buttoned shoes for winter and they split at a seam, and the school shoes I bought for the children didn't last them any time."

"Dissatisfaction with goods doesn't let you out of paying for them," said Mr. Jarr. "If you don't pay for things I've got to."

"I don't see why," retorted Mrs. Jarr. "I wouldn't pay for things you got and used."

"Of course not," said Mr. Jarr. "I'm responsible for my own debts and yours. I can't own any property without your having a third interest in it. But while what is mine is yours, what's yours is your own."

"Why shouldn't it be?" asked Mrs. Jarr. "You men have votes and we women haven't. What we are fighting for is equal rights."
"If you had equal rights would you take an equal share of the responsibilities of life?" asked Mr. Jarr. "Would you ask for special protection under special laws in a thousand different ways as now?"
"Why, of course!" replied Mrs. Jarr. "A man who wouldn't want to give his wife everything is a piker."
"No," said Mr. Jarr, with a sigh. "A piker is a man who lives within his income, and there's few of them left."

Don't Ever Let Anyone Tell You This as a New One
HOW much are those mouse-colored shoes?
"Seven dollars."
"Why are they so high?"
"European war."
"I thought the Swedes were neutral."

Honeymoon Cake.

HOW many strawberries should I use?" asked the young wife of her mother as she began making her first shortcake for the only man in the world.
"Put in as few as you like the first year," said the experienced woman. "He's too much in love now to notice the difference. After you've been married a year you'll have to use a lot of them."

His Nationality.

THE court interpreter, after trying all the fashionable languages, smiled reassuringly at the Court and began again: "Norway yam Swedish."
"Buth mith middle," replied the witness.
"Gothamalkin soowegian Polish?"
"Sith middle toof."
"Yen tightrope Japanese?"
"Kith yirrow."
"Krick dykes Dutch?"
"Tith with peedle."
The court interpreter took a long breath and avoided the Court's eyes.
"Yow launies check Chinese? Weel-spoke Scotch? Serag wocke Esperanto? Sookit tuum Latin?" he rattled off.
The witness wearily took out a sheet of paper and a pencil from his pocket.
"You poor fish, I got a hare lip," he wrote—Puck.

A Tragic Episode

THE other day a movie actor who once was a telegrapher was seated in the lobby of a hotel when his attention was attracted by a tapping on the arm of the chair next his. A young man was telegraphing with his knife and lead pencil.
"Oh, May!" said the improvised instrument. "Nothing happened and a minute or so later the young man ticked it off again. There was another slight pause and then the instrument at one of the telegraph desks asked: "Well, what is it?" A little blonde girl was at the key.

"I'm sorry," the young man in the chair ticked off. "Won't you forgive me?"
"I'm afraid I can't," came from the regular telegraph instrument. No, Tom, I'm through with you."
"Do you mean it?"
"Yes."
There was a slight pause and then the young man ticked back: "All right. Good-by! I'm going West tomorrow."
"Good-by!" replied the girl's sounder.
The young man arose and moved slowly to the door. Suddenly the girl's instrument called frantically: "Tom! Tom! Wait!"
She was too late. He had gone out onto the street.

Cottage Crockery.

MANY find the summer cottage in the woods or at the seashore a pleasant compromise between the house and the tent. One lives out of doors, with all the comforts of home in a simple form, for nights and rainy days. A problem which used to exist was the "wash-hand-stand" (to borrow an English term.) Pitchers and wash-bowls and tooth-mugs are hard to pack when breakable, and the tin basin and pail were squalid. Now, however, one can have a sturdy, pitcher, bowl, mug, soap-dish, slop-jar and brush-holder all in enameled ware, as white and pretty as the porcelain manger the king's horse had in the fairy-tale; and best of all, nothing will break. Such a set may be taken from camp to camp year after year, safely and easily.

WHAT'S YOUR WEIGHT? TOO HEAVY?

PHY-THY-RIN REDUCES.

A great many pounds of excess flesh is a source of great annoyance, especially to a lady; for when you're too stout, you know and are ever conscious of the fact. You feel that you don't look well in your clothes; that it's hard to be properly fitted—sized are too small, and you aren't able to get around as well as you would like to. Your breath is short, and you don't like to walk so much.

For just these reasons there is ready for your use at any well-stocked drug store, a box of five-grain Phy-ty-rin tablets, to be taken after meals. They reduce your flesh naturally and gradually, and you don't have to bother dieting or exercising. A continued treatment will very shortly bring your weight down to where you think it should be; and your system will be in good condition and you'll feel better than before you got thin.—ADVERTISEMENT.
